

BUT HE'S NOT HERBERT — Mrs. John S. Heins of Belveron holds one of praying mantises which she imported to keep down aphids in gar-

HERBERT KNEW HIS NAME

Missing Mantis Mourned; Was Aphid Eater Eaten?

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Herbert is gone. Herbert is a four-inch, dusty-colored praying mantis with a three-cornered head.

Since he came from the California Bug Co. in Auburn in May he has lived in the garden of Mrs. John A. Heins of Belveron. A week ago he disappeared.

Mrs. Heins says that she has 11 more praying mantises but she had been extra fond of Herbert. "When I called, he came and sat on my arm," she said. "When I put him on a different tree, he always came back to his same tree. Herbert was friendly. And he would sit right up and pray."

Mrs. Heins said she also has a mantis she calls "The Big Green One" and another with "great blue eyes" but they are not like Herbert.

She started this method of "balancing Nature" when she wanted to get rid of some aphids. She sent for four praying mantis cocoons plus some ladybugs.

"I had hundreds of ladybugs, all beautifully packed. The ladybugs disappeared from the garden within a week," she said.

"My husband, John, said they had been trained to go back to their original owners." But Mrs. Heins does not believe this. "I believe they have gone underground."

The praying mantises stayed and prospered and prayed. The cocoons were placed in different spots in the garden and, one day, Herbert came out through what Mrs. Heins calls a "venetian blind in his cocoon." He lived on a lemon leaf in the back yard.

"He is friendly," said Mrs. Heins. "But he is called rapacious, too. He eats live flies. He will eat any and all aphids. His top dish is a wasp."

"You've heard about the book, 'The Silent Spring'?" Mrs. Heins asked. "Pretty soon we'll spray ourselves out of existence."

Mrs. Heins, a member of the Mill Valley Finn Family, said the other day two boys were visiting her. She said, "Come on out, Herbert," and Herbert jumped right on her arm and crawled up and down. "The boys were flabbergasted," she said.

"Herbert is like a person," she added, "but he has blousy eyes."

"He doesn't vibrate to this rainy weather. He loves a warm day."

"My husband is afraid of the big green ones—mantises come in green and dusty colors—may have eaten Herbert."

"He could be hanging from a stem or gone to the edge of a branch, but I doubt it," said Mrs. Heins a bit sadly. Then, she added, cheerfully, "I have great faith Herbert will come back."

Russ-Cuba Plea To End Blockade Believed Made In Talk To Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union and Cuba were reported today to have laid before Acting Secretary-General U Thant a joint formula for easing tension in the Cuban crisis.

Details were not available, but the proposals were understood to follow generally the earlier demands of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for U.S. withdrawal from the big naval base at Guantanamo and a halt in the U.S. economic squeeze on Cuba.

U.N. diplomats speculated that the plan had been worked out by Castro and Soviet troubleshooter Anastas I. Mikoyan, who has been in Havana nearly two weeks.

The Soviet-Cuban proposals were submitted by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga as informed sources reported the collapse of plans for inspection of Cuba-bound Soviet ships by the International Red Cross.

A U.N. spokesman said they had discussed with the secretary-general specific joint proposals on the Cuban problem. He would not elaborate, but informed sources said the proposals faced certain rejection by the United States.

The spokesman said the United Nations still had received no official word that the International Committee of the Red Cross had decided in Geneva to bow out of the Cuban picture. He added, however, that Thant considered the plan in abeyance at the moment.

Today's meeting was the first that Thant had had with Soviet and Cuban representatives together.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who conferred with President John F. Kennedy in Washington Monday, was expected to see Thant later in the day.

Informed sources said the United States would undoubtedly reinstate the naval quarantine which was ordered three weeks ago to halt the flow of arms to Cuba. The Red Cross inspection plan had been intended to replace the blockade, now suspended temporarily.

Congress Race Shaping Up

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Marin Republicans indicated strong support for Donald H. Clausen; Sonoma Democrats gave a vote of endorsement to Sonoma State College Dean George E. McCabe, and State Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan of So-nomas took himself completely out of the race for Congress.

These were developments today in the fast-moving battle for the late Clem Miller's First District seat in Congress.

Senator Rattigan, considered one of the strongest candidates the Democrats could have put into the Jan. 22 special election, issued a statement to "emphasize and elaborate my previous statement that I will not be a candidate."

"I have just been re-elected to represent Sonoma County in the State Senate commencing in January," Rattigan said. "If I were to be elected to Congress in that month, my district and all its people would be unrepresented in the Senate until my successor could be elected. This would mean they would be without representation for most of an entire general legislative session. It would also mean that they would be required to bear the full cost of a second consecutive special election. Under these circumstances, it would be uncon-

Supervisors Will Discuss Redistricting

They're Ready, But Ask For More Research

Marin County supervisors today unanimously voiced readiness to re-district the county, but indicated desire for extensive discussion and research beyond the findings of the recent special redistricting committee report.

They set 9 a.m. Jan. 10 as the time to start the task, and made clear the job may prove a lengthy one.

"Invaluable spadework" has been done by the advisory committee headed by Bert W. Broemmell, said Supervisor Peter Behr. But Supervisor William D. Fusselman in particular had ideas he felt the Broemmell group hadn't considered.

OWN DISTRICT

Pointing out that his own District 2 contains five of Marin County's 10 cities, Fusselman said that residents of these cities vote for supervisor but only occasionally are affected by the supervisors' decisions, which mostly prevail only in the unincorporated areas.

Fusselman said the committee recommendation would remove such major population areas as Kentfield and Greenbrae from the unincorporated parts of his district, leaving only Oak Manor and Sleepy Hollow. Since the supervisors have no jurisdiction over cities, he felt this out of line.

Chairman Walter R. Castro said District 5, represented by Supervisor William Gness, is changing fast. In questioning of County Clerk George H. Gness it was brought out that of a total of about 8,000 registered voters in District 5, some 6,000 live within the city of Novato. Supervisor Gness thus acts for only 2,000, declared Fusselman.

FIVE YEARS

"Within the next five years there may be an increase of 30,000 people in my district," Supervisor Gness added.

"You'll be elected by those people but only in rare instances will you have authority to represent them," said Fusselman.

San Rafael May Vote On City Offices, Bonds

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

San Rafael voters may be asked next April to make the police chief and city attorney appointive positions, and to authorize a $500,000 bond issue for municipal improvements.

Mayor John F. McInnis disclosed today he will advocate ballot measures providing for appointment of both the police chief and attorney, as well as a bond issue.

City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw said he will not be a candidate for another four-year term as city attorney. His present term expires in April.

He will recommend, Bagshaw said, that the post be made appointive, to enable the city to hire a fulltime attorney.

Growth of San Rafael, said Bagshaw, has created need for a fulltime city attorney. "As long as the position is elective," he said, "only an already-successful lawyer can get the votes. And he cannot give the city full time service."

"The council should be able to select a man for a fulltime position and regulate his salary."

Bagshaw receives $550 per month salary on part-time basis.

If the job is left elective, Bagshaw contended, the city will have to hire a fulltime assistant city attorney anyhow.

Change of the police chief status from elective to appointive was advocated by Chief Charles E. Simpson of Monterey police in his report on a study of the San Rafael Police Department made for the city council. Simpson held that the necessity to spend time meeting the public for political fence-mending handicapped an elective chief in running his department.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa has indicated he probably will seek re-election. He is now completing his first four-year term. Inspector Nick Giampoli also has said he will be a candidate for the job.

The $500,000 bond issue is indicated as needed for part of the cost of a new city hall and right-of-way purchases for street extensions.

The council has voted to locate a new city hall on property fronting Fifth Avenue from the city library to C Street. Ebasco Services, who did a study of city hall needs for San Rafael, estimated total cost of land acquisition and building a new city hall, central fire station and fire department administrative offices at nearly one and one-half million dollars.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen said today the city has on hand $453,000 of unappropriated surplus. He estimated the

Women Buck Freeway Plan For Novato

The women of Novato today were being organized to carry the fight against a through-town freeway to the state highway commission at its Sacramento meeting on Nov. 27.

Mrs. John (Betty) Machado of 1424 Dawes Street started organizing a group of women to go to Sacramento in a caravan, in an attempt to persuade the highway commission to move the freeway east of town.

City Councilman Lucile Cannon informally gave her backing to the movement.

"The more it is stirred up, the more the highway commission will realize that the decision of the city council the other night did not represent the thinking of a majority of the people," she said.

"Operation Petticoat" is the term Mrs. Machado gave the attempt to get Novato women to carry their protest to Sacramento.

"The men have had their chance to get the freeway moved; now let the women have theirs!" she said.

After a public hearing last Thursday night, the Novato City Council voted 4-to-1 in favor of a depressed freeway along the present highway 101 route, which runs through the middle of Novato's business district. Mrs. Cannon cast the only dissenting vote.

LOVE LETTERS, TOO

Woman Attorney Gets Biggest Share Of Chessman's Estate

Miss Rosalie Asher of Sacramento, one of the many attorneys of convict-author Caryl Chessman, gets the biggest share of what little remains of Chessman's estate.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court today approved a distribution, which gives Miss Asher $2,839.85 plus two boxes of documents including love letters received by Chessman from women all over the world.

As for future income from published and unpublished works of Chessman, Miss Asher painted a gloomy picture. "The unpublished manuscripts of Chessman are utterly unsalable," she told the judge. She said royalties from his published books are rapidly diminishing and prospects for future royalties are dim.

Private investigator William J. Linhart appeared in court this morning, determined to get his share of the estate. He received $842.80. Linhart's attorney, Armin I. Horwitz, said he was prepared for a three-day court battle if Linhart was excluded from the estate distribution.

Attorney George T. Davis receives $2,072.90, and attorney A. L. Wirin, $1,837.50.

Private eye Linhart turned over Chessman's documents to Miss Asher. He said the documents include carbon copies of replies Chessman wrote to women all over the world, and letters he wrote in his struggle for use of a typewriter in his San Quentin cell.

Kentfield Man Hit By Car, Gravely Hurt

A 68-year-old Kentfield man was in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today as result of being struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon when he ventured into heavy traffic on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at a point with no crosswalk.

Herbert Bon of 39 Laurel Grove Avenue told the California Highway Patrol he had just left a bus at the Laurel Grove intersection at 5:30 p.m. He started to walk across the boulevard when J. N. Hendrickson of 8 Fernhill Avenue, Ross accountant, arrived in his west-bound car.

Hendrickson said he braked sharply but hit Bon nevertheless. Bon suffered a broken right leg, broken right hand, cuts and bruises, and injuries of pelvis and head.

Red Germans Reported Freezing Army Units

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany has frozen the discharge of servicemen until further notice because of the "serious political situation," soldiers who fled to the West reported today.

They told western officials the freeze was ordered last month during the Cuban crisis and still is in effect, increasing discontent in the East German Army.

The communist military measure was disclosed as 15,000 West Berlin police turned out before dawn in the largest emergency training exercise ever held here.

Convoys of trucks snaked through the streets and special commandos took up guard posts at airfields, radio stations and government offices in an exercise designed to test plans to defend the city if the Communists try to take it over.

The exercise began at 4:30 a.m. and ended at 1:30 p.m.

The West Berlin police include barracks forces as well as regular constables. There are about 17,000 police—about 5,000 more than the total of combined allied troops. A volunteer force of 3,000 police militia was not called out today.

Soviet 1962 Farm Output To Fall Below Planned Goals, Nikita Says

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev reported today Russia's farm production this year will fall short of planned goals in numerous sectors, despite marginal increases in the output of milk and meat.

The premier's statement was part of a Nov. 10 report to the ruling presidium of the Communist Party, published today in the Communist newspaper Pravda.

Khrushchev said the government would procure grain "on the level" of procurements in 1958—which was a bumper harvest year.

This referred to grain deliveries to the state, which are governed by administrative decision, and did not necessarily mean the 1962 grain crop had approached that of 1958.

Pravda said yesterday the 1962 grain harvest would surpass that of 1961, but did not give any comparison with 1958.

Western observers expected that Khrushchev and other top Soviet leaders would thrash out the agricultural problem at the Nov. 19 meeting of the Communist Central Committee.

Observers were watching to see if the committee would reallocate investment funds for the military after the Cuban confrontation.

So far there have been no indications major military spending is planned.

Khrushchev's report revealed reductions in overall production of sugar beets, sunflowers and potatoes.

He said the Soviet government estimated it would procure about 6.2 million tons of grain in 1962, compared with 5.7 million last year.

However, the planned procurement figure announced by chief state planner Vladimir Novikov on Dec. 6, 1961, was between 6.9 and 7.03 million tons.

In the case of cotton, the overall 1962 production of 4.5 million metric tons was smaller than the planned figure of 5.132 million.

Although the figures which Khrushchev cited showed that estimated procurements of two key items—milk and meat—had risen in comparison to last year, they still were below planned procurement figures.

For example, milk procurement for 1962 was 26.5 million tons compared to 25 million for 1961, but the planned figure was 32.35 million tons.

Meat procurement for 1962 was estimated at 4.2 million tons against 3.8 million for 1961 and a planned target of 5.53 million tons for 1962.

The Soviet government raised the retail prices of meat and milk 30 per cent June 1, hoping to increase the income of state and collective farms and help them to meet costs.

Khrushchev, who made a farm tour of the republics of Uzbekistan, Tadzhikistan and Turkmenia in September, said the weather had not been favorable this year for a record harvest.

He said there had been severe drought in some areas of Kazakhstan, and a cold, wet summer in certain areas of the Russian Republic, the Soviet Union's largest "state."

Khrushchev had critical words in his report for state and collective farms which have different levels of production under similar conditions.

"We have not overcome this drawback," he said.

Unemployment Aid On New Schedule

Those reporting for unemployment insurance benefits at the San Rafael office of the Department of Employment will follow a new schedule beginning Nov. 19.

Edwin W. Ayer, manager of the San Rafael office, said the new schedule will result in a changed report day for most claimants.

Because of the increased work load at the employment office, 805 E Street, the new scheduling was adopted to serve the public more efficiently, Ayer explained.

Kobseff Appointed To Handicapped Aid Group

Nick Kobseff of Nicasio has been named to the board of governors of Handicapped International, an organization for rehabilitation and employment of the handicapped.

Kobseff's appointment was announced last Friday at a San Francisco luncheon at Fiori Italia.

MAD RIVER ALMOST GETS MAD DRIVER

EUREKA (AP)—Mrs. Robert Harris of Arcata, Humboldt County, telephoned police: "Help! My husband is floating down the river in his car."

A few minutes later, she called back: "That's all right. Forget my call. He's OK. He's hung up on a sandbar."

Police said Harris tried to ford Mad River yesterday in his bus-type foreign car. In midstream the current caught his water-tight auto and it was launched.

When the auto struck the sandbar, Harris climbed out on the sun roof and waited for a tow truck to arrive.

Red Cross Inspection Is Dropped

GENEVA (AP)—Plans for an immediate International Red Cross inspection of ships sailing to Cuba have been dropped, it was reliably learned today.

Reliable sources said the all-Swiss International Committee of the Red Cross no longer consider the proposed inspection—to insure that Soviet missiles and other offensive weapons are not sent to Cuba—to be vitally and immediately necessary to prevent world war.

PROPOSAL DISCUSSED

The committee met in an emergency session last night with its former president, Paul Ruegger, who discussed the inspection proposal in New York with U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant.

A communique issued by the committee said the committee would have taken no active part in the proposed inspection in any case, but would have nominated international inspectors to operate under U.N. authority.

TO BE IN TOUCH

The communique said the committee would remain in close touch with Thant to work out details of a possible inspection procedure.

The communique was phrased in careful terms and gave no indication of the committee's reported decision to take no other action in the matter at present.

Under the original proposal, accepted by both President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, International Red Cross inspectors would have checked ships sailing into Cuba to make sure they contained no offensive weapons.

The committee last week declared its readiness to accept this task, although it lay outside its traditional functions, in a major threat of world war involving the survival of the human race.

Sources close to the committee said it remains ready to intervene in such an emergency, but that the major threat of world war subsided with the removal of the Soviet missiles from Cuba.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Goldwater Wants Adlai Fired

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), says President John F. Kennedy should oust United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and three other top officials in the administration.

Goldwater charges that the four men have "consistently urged a soft policy toward communism, both in Cuba and elsewhere throughout the world."

Those in addition to Stevenson assailed by the conservative Republican were:

Chester Bowles, special adviser on Asian, African and Latin-American affairs.

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant to the President.

Richard Goodwin, deputy assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs.

Goldwater urged ouster of the four men last night in addressing the annual dinner of the Wings Club.

Truman Coins Stolen

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Police have issued pickup orders for four men in connection with the theft of a valuable coin collection from the Harry S. Truman Library.

A guard said the four men were in the library Sunday and didn't appear to be ordinary visitors. Descriptions of the men were broadcast to area police.

The collection, described as the only one of its kind and irreplaceable, was stolen early yesterday.

Walker Examined

DALLAS (UPI)—A specialist in the legal aspects of psychiatry examined Edwin A. Walker before his release from Parkland, Hospital, the psychiatrist in charge of the former major general's court-ordered mental examinations said today.

Dr. Robert Stubblefield, who ordered Walker released from the hospital Saturday night, said Dr. Andrew L. Watson of the medical and law faculty of the University of Michigan, examined Walker then left over the weekend.

The average American family uses almost a ton of paper a year.

Stanford Ups Fees

STANFORD (AP)—President Wallace Sterling of Stanford has announced a $50 increase in quarterly tuition at the university beginning next year.

Air Time Offer Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—A former aide of Richard M. Nixon has assailed an offer of equal air time for the ex-vice president to balance a television program on which convicted perjurer Alger Hiss and others discussed Nixon's political career.

Robert H. Finch, who as administrative assistant to Nixon during his vice presidency, said last night the American Broadcasting Co. offer of equal time to the man who helped put Hiss in jail was an "atrocious, pathetic gesture."

Saturn Shot Due Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space scientists plan to launch a giant Saturn rocket within a few days in the third step of a test series aimed at blazing an American trail to the moon.

SA3—for Saturn-Atlas—will carry aloft more instruments than any U.S. rocket yet launched.

Adenauer To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany arrives tonight for talks with President John F. Kennedy on the future of Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will greet the 86-year-old German leader at Andrews Air Force Base and will ride with him to Blair House, the president's guest house.

GOP Ponders Future

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The future of the Republican Party in California will be considered at a meeting in Fresno December 15 of the GOP Executive Committee.

Republican State Chairman Caspar Weinberger, in making the announcement yesterday, added that the conference may be followed Jan. 8 by a meeting of the entire GOP State Central Committee, perhaps in San Francisco.

Larkspur To Pick Planner Chairman

The Larkspur Planning Commission is expected to pick a new chairman when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

Henry Taylor, a soils engineer, was named to the commission by the city council last week to fill the vacancy left by resignation of Chairman Vaughn Marker.

The commission will consider granting architectural supervision to Patterson Properties for an apartment development in Bon Air Subdivision 4, and resume discussion of a proposed new subdivision ordinance.

Director Of Foreign Aid Resigns Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has accepted the resignation of Fowler Hamilton as head of the U.S. foreign aid program, the White House reported today.

Assistant Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Hamilton had submitted his resignation as director of the Agency for International Development over the weekend. Hatcher said Hamilton will leave office when a successor is appointed.

He said he has no idea when Kennedy will choose a replacement but said the new director will not be Sargent Shriver, the President's brother-in-law who heads the Peace Corps.

Shriver frequently has been mentioned as a possible successor to Hamilton.

city could realize $600,000 from sale of the present city hall and central fire station properties and part of the 7.8-acre canal-side property where the municipal corporation yard is located.

The city may need $90,000 beyond what has already been budgeted for acquisition of property for widening of Third Street to Embarcadero and purchase of right-of-way for Third Street extension to connect with Second Street and the Miracle Mile, necessary for working out the city street plan, Andersen said.

This would leave about a half million dollars needed from some other source—probably a bond issue—to complete all the projects.

Andersen said a working reserve of $160,000 to $165,000 would be left on hand if the unappropriated reserve were spent.

San Rafael has no outstanding city-wide bond issues. Residents of part of the city pay a two-cent tax toward retirement of sewer bonds.

The President reportedly decided to stand fast on the bomber demand at a conference in Washington Monday with Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations; Stevenson's Security Council deputy, Charles W. Yost, and John J. McCloy, special adviser on the Cuban crisis.

Stevenson and his team were expected to brief Acting Secretary-General U Thant on their talk with the President and to schedule a new round of negotiations with the Soviet delegates.

we should get it somehow," Supervisor Peter Behr noted much cooperation will be needed as action will require four votes.

"If we put our heads together we can get something better than at present. We have a duty," said Behr.

The decision to "start study on a basis of the committee report" was finally in support of a motion by Fusselman. County counsel's opinion as to legality of actions toward redistricting (reported today on page 16) precipitated the decision but was merely read without discussion.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a loss today after an up-and-down session marked by profit taking on the prolonged advance.

Trading was heavy toward the end and the ticker tape ran late. The business news background continued fairly good but traders had plenty of short-term profits to cash.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5 million shares compared with 5.09 million yesterday.

Telephone Caller Booked As Burglar

A 38-year-old San Rafael gardener was booked on a burglary charge yesterday in Marin County Jail after he allegedly entered an apartment and made a long-distance telephone call to North Carolina.

Jay Joseph Taylor of 14 Sentinel Court, Apartment 4, told San Rafael police that he caught Ernest Thomas Rector, 38, of Apartment 2, making a call on his phone when he walked into his apartment shortly after noon.

Taylor said that Rector admitted climbing in through a window. Rector told police that he heard Taylor's phone ringing, which gave him the idea to call his mother in North Carolina.

Knife Victim Vows Revenge On Attacker

A Marin City laborer, knifed in the left thigh last night, refused to name his attacker and vowed he would take care of the assailant himself, Sheriff's Deputy George Johnsen reported.

The victim was Joe B. Kemp, 42, of A-8, apartment 64. Sausalito police talked to the injured Kemp at the Sausalito Boat Shop and called the sheriff at 8:20 p.m.

Kemp was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Sausalito Council Due Wage Report

The Sausalito City Council will hear a wage study report on public works department employees from City Mgr. Charles A. Brown at a meeting at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Also on the agenda are a report on parking and traffic enforcement, and a lease by the city of Shelter Cove property to Portofino Marin.

OBITUARIES

Ex-Marin Highway Officer Dies

Robert Romax Rosenau, 41, a California Highway Patrol officer who worked in the San Rafael office of the patrol from Oct. of 1951 to March 1955, died yesterday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness.

A native of West Virginia, Rosenau went to the Santa Rosa office of the highway patrol after leaving the San Rafael office. He was a member of the California Highway Patrol Assn. and the California State Employees Assn.

He is survived by his wife, Alma of Santa Rosa, and two sons, Robert Ronald of the U.S. Air Force in Texas and Richard Ray Rosenau of Santa Rosa.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Chapel of Fred Young and Co., Healdsburg. Interment will be in the Oak Mound Cemetery, Healdsburg. Contributions to the Kelley Heart Foundation are preferred.

GIUSEPPE BIANCO

Giuseppe Bianco, 71, a self-employed plasterer who lived in San Anselmo, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Bianco, a native of Italy, lived at 249 San Francisco Boulevard with his wife, Ida. He came to California 48 years ago and moved to Marin County in 1953.

Besides his wife, Bianco is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William Zavosky of Greenbrae, and two grandchildren.

A Requiem High Mass will be said at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Chapel, Fifth Avenue and E Street, San Rafael.

JOSEPHINE KRYSPIN

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine A. Kryspin, 59, of 714 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, who died Sunday after a short illness in San Francisco, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Kryspin, a native of Illinois, had lived in Marin County for two years. She came to California in 1925. She is survived by a daughter, Estelle Kryspin of San Rafael.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

VICTOR MATTOS

Funeral arrangements are pending for Victor Mattos, a retired dairy rancher who died Sunday at a local hospital after long illness.

Mattos, 68, was a native of St. George, Azores, and had lived 56 years in California. He resided in Modesto 25 years, during which time he worked on a dairy ranch. He moved to Mill Valley in 1952 to reside with his son, Charles J. Mattos, at 214 Amicitia Avenue. Three years ago Mattos moved to a local convalescent home.

Besides his son, Mattos is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alice Sanders of Atwater, Merced County; a brother, Joe Mattos of Pacific Grove; two grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Mattos was a member of IDES of Modesto.

Funeral services are being arranged by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

U.S. Economy Steadily Advancing

I-J Special Report
Sparked by consumer spending, the nation's economy will advance steadily in the next eight months.

So say 17 students in the Stanford graduate school of business who've just finished an intensive, month-long independent analysis of the economic outlook.

Going against the "pros," the Stanford group believes the annual rate of production of goods and services (the gross national product) will top the 570 billion-dollar mark by mid-1963. This compares with a present (third quarter 1962) rate of 555 billion dollars.

Consumers—not business men—will be the dominant contributors to this upswing, the students contend. Factors that the future MBAs see as supporting continued advances at this time are the record production of 1963 model cars, the "lean" inventory position of business and continued growth in government outlays at all levels.

The students comprise the business forecasting class of Prof. William A. Spurr. The last time his proteges published a prognosis for the economy, they were right on the button—in February, 1961, when they said the economy had touched bottom and was due for a steady rise the following spring.

The class forecast for 1963 is based on analysis of lead, lag and coincident indicators. Diffusion indexes, recent surveys of business and consumer spending plans and expectations, historical business cycles, and strategic factors influencing the major components in the gross national product.

Recall Of China Envoys Seen As Sino-Soviet Rift

LONDON (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today Communist China has recalled its envoys from four satellite countries apparently to review a growing Sino-Soviet policy clash.

Some Iron Curtain diplomats are saying freely in London that the dividing line between the Soviet Union and China is becoming firmer with Peiping seemingly determined to follow its own path in the pursuit of its objectives.

Chinese diplomatic envoys in Warsaw, Prague, Bucharest and East Berlin were recalled in mid-October. There was no firm information on whether they had returned but it was believed most of them were still in China.

(An unofficial report from Warsaw said Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan was seen in public five days ago, but there was no confirmation of this in London diplomatic circles.)

The Chinese envoy in Moscow left Oct. 24 after a seven-year tour of duty. He was to have been replaced but his successor apparently has not yet arrived.

Their recall of envoys in mid-October suggested the action was not directly connected with the Cuban crisis. But the reason behind the move appears to be largely the heightening conflict between China and the Soviet which automatically affects relations with Soviet satellite states.

APARTMENTS ON THE MOVE— The Commando, once a potato scow, moves up Richardson Bay from Johnson Street in Sausalito, in tow by tugboat. Dean M. Jennings plans to convert the vessel—called the last of the river scows in the Bay Area—into four apartments.

HAD HEYDAY BEFORE BRIDGES

Old Potato Boat Still Has Life; To Be Turned Into Apartments

"Bridges ran the old potato boat out of business," said Don-lon Arques yesterday as he watched a tug tow the Commando upstream in Richardson Bay to Waldo Point.

She was once called the Eight Brothers, said Arques. She was named after eight Portuguese brothers who owned ranches in the Delta region. They used her to haul potatoes and onions down the Sacramento, San Joaquin, and Petaluma rivers to Pier 9 in San Francisco, he said.

"She's the last of the river power scows in the Bay Area," Arques said.

The Commando has been purchased by Dean M. Jennings of Waldo Point and is to be converted into four apartments and moored at Waldo Point.

The 65-foot long billet head (square nose) scow was in the potato business from 1923 to 1945 as the Eight Brothers. It was built at Antioch and has a 75-horsepower Atlas Imperial Diesel engine.

In those days, said Arques, before bridges, the scows were needed to get to the islands.

The boat belonged to the Portuguese family for about seven years, then was sold to Nickols Transportation Co. of Stockton. The firm's Val Dervin said the bridges put the scow out of business because trucks could then go over the bridges to the islands and into the fields.

The boat was sold in 1945 to a man named Costanza who ran a sardine cannery at Benicia and used the boat to haul sardines. He changed its name to the Commando. Then, around the start of World War II, the sardines became depleted in the Pacific Ocean and again the boat was sold, this time to Arques.

It was brought from Ozol, a small town across from Benicia, to Sausalito where it has been for sale for about eight years, moored at Arques' yard on Johnson Street in Sausalito. Jennings bought the Commando recently for apartments.

Dervin said the scow once had an eight-man crew, plus a captain, an engineer and a cook. "She was a busy boat, handling 120 tons daily and running to San Francisco, Oakland, Richmond, San Rafael, and Petaluma. She must have handled a million bags," he related.

The Commando has been re-framed and had her bottom replaced by Arques. He had copper paint in his hair after painting the boat's undersides yesterday.

"She hauled a lot of potatoes in her time," said Arques.

Junketing Congressmen Off Again—Taxpayer Gets Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many members of Congress are off and winging again to far-away places. As usual, taxpayers will foot most of the bills for visits to Paris, Berlin and other intriguing world spots.

Two senators and six representatives provided the most spectacular addition to the touring lawmakers when they turned up in Berlin yesterday in the uniforms they keep carefully pressed for active duty as Army Reserve officers.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), a reserve major general, and Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough (D-Tex.), a reserve colonel, said the group wanted to study the Berlin situation before proceeding to other places in Europe and elsewhere around the world. A U.S. Military Air Transport plane was at their disposal.

House members were headed by Col. Ken Hechler (D-W.Va.) and Lt. Col. Lawrence H. Fountain (D-N.C.). Harlan Hagen (D-Calif.), W. Pat Jennings (D-Va.), G. Elliott Hagan (D-Ga.), and Phil Weaver (R-Neb.). For Weaver it was a kind of farewell journey. He was defeated for renomination in the primary.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is expected to join a dozen of his Senate colleagues tomorrow in Paris where they are exchanging ideas with parliamentarians from other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. Most of his colleagues had a weekend in Paris before the conference opened but Fulbright was laid up with bronchitis.

The Senate delegation included Sens. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), who took off earlier on his own; Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), Jennings Randolph (D-W.Va.), Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.), Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.), Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), and Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.).

For Capehart, defeated in last Tuesday's election, it was something of a consolation journey.

A delegation of House members to the Paris meeting was headed by Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio). Speaker John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) had designated Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) and Robert R. Barry (R-N.Y.) as the other official House delegates.

West Berlin already has been visited by a group of three senators and a former member who embarked earlier on what was labeled as a fact-finding tour for President John F. Kennedy.

Transported in a White House jet, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana led the quartet which expected to complete a circuit of the world before Christmas.

Sens. Clairborne Pell (D-R.I.) and J. Caleb Boggs (R-Del.) signed up for this tour. Benjamin A. Smith II (D-Mass.) went along, although he had been replaced on the payroll at midnight last Tuesday when Edward M. Kennedy, the president's brother, was elected as his successor.

Two lame duck House members were among four who took off earlier in the week on an official study mission for the House subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs. The group scheduled visits to Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, Panama, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Mexico.

Rep. Armistead I. Selden Jr. (D-Ala.), the subcommittee chairman, was the lone Democrat in the group. Republicans included William S. Mailliard of California, who was re-elected; Laurence Curtis of Massachusetts, who forfeited his House seat in an unsuccessful bid for his party's senatorial nomination, and Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church of Illinois, who did not seek re-election.

A senator who didn't choose to run again, John Marshall Butler, Maryland Republican, also took off on a three-week tour. Representing the Senate Commerce Committee, Butler planned a survey of ship-building activities in England and West Germany.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, headed by John S. Monagan (D-Conn.), set up a trip that will take members to Moscow, Warsaw, Vienna, Bonn, West Berlin, Copenhagen and Lisbon.

This group included Reps. Harris B. McDowell Jr. (D-Del.), Lindsey Beckworth (D-Tex.), William S. Broomfield (R-Mich.), and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.).

These members apparently made up only the first wave of congressional tourists. Others seemed likely to turn up on journeys of official business—as they are solemnly noted in the records—as time hums along.

A HONEY OF AN IDEA —BUT IT DIDN'T WORK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—They ripped open the ceiling of the Richard Webster's house and gallons of honey oozed out.

In sticky succession, layers of honeycombs peeled apart and plopped down.

Honey began dripping from the ceiling of a bedroom last week.

"I called the bee people, the real estate people, the insurance people," said Mrs. Webster. "They all came out and looked."

They decided to open the ceiling yesterday and look some more.

"At least four gallons of honey came out, I imagine," said the carpenter who performed the operation, "and about two 10-gallon buckets full of honeycombs."

Bees had flown in through ventilating holes and built their combs between the ceiling and roof.

First U.S. Stamp In 44 Years Is Printed With A Mistake

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department turned out what apparently was a real good bargain in imperfect stamps honoring Dag Hammarskjöld. The "best buys" weren't advertised. Now it's too late to take advantage of them.

For at least three men the postal misprints may prove to be a real bonanza: their imperfect four-cent stamps may be worth hundreds of dollars apiece.

Stamp collectors prize such imperfections highly, and the issue commemorating the late secretary-general of the United Nations had a big one. At least 400 were printed on an inverted plate with the four-cent mark showing up in the wrong place.

The Post Office Department is wasting no time blushing over the mistake. It proudly points out that it's the first time in 44 years that an imperfection has slipped onto the market—and it turns out billions of stamps yearly.

The last time was 1918, when 50 imperfect 24-cent air mail stamps were circulated. A postal official recalled yesterday that one of them recently brought $9,000 at an auction.

READY FOR OPENING—Ed Wright (left), meat department manager, and Sam Miller, store manager, prepare to hang sign in new Safeway Store at 700

B Street, San Rafael, which will open for business tomorrow. Building embodies latest supermarket features adopted by Safeway chain. (Independent-Journal photo)

Safeway Opens Tomorrow

Mayor John F. McInnis will cut a ribbon at 9 a.m. tomorrow, officially opening San Rafael's new Safeway Store, a $200,000 building at 700 B Street.

The store, with a total area of 22,075 square feet, is almost twice as large as the former Safeway Store at Third and A Streets, which was closed Saturday.

The new store has eight check stands, modern refrigeration display cases without doors and an electronic "brain" for weighing and pricing meat cuts automatically.

The building was designed by Berkeley architect Arthur Iwata. Contractors were MacDonald, Young and Nelson of Oakland.

Sam Miller, former manager of the Safeway Store in San Anselmo, is manager of the new store. He will have a staff of 50 employees.

This represents an annual payroll of $350,000, Miller said. His assistants are Edward Maharg, assistant manager; Edgar Wright, meat department manager, and James Bianchina, produce department manager.

The refrigerated display cases keep the meats, dairy products and frozen foods at their proper temperatures through freezing units in the shelves, Miller explained. Shoppers do not have to be troubled with opening and closing doors.

The electronic computing scale in the meat department weighs each package, calculates the price and then stamps the package with the weight, price and description of the cut. It can process 15 packages per minute.

The store will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. all other days.

Miller, who lives at 31 Mountain View Avenue, San Anselmo, operated the San Anselmo Safeway for nine years. Richard H. Silvey, 213 El Prado Road, San Rafael Meadows, has replaced him there.

Board Wants Physician's Job Defined

When a successor to Dr. Rafael G. Duffy Jr. is picked as new county physician next spring, something solid should be known about what the job is, Marin County supervisors decided today.

Administrator Alan Bruce disclosed no "job description" for the post has ever been written. He suggested that one should be.

Bruce likewise thought the board should decide whether the post should remain part-time or become full-time, what its salary should be in the future, and possible related organizational and staff changes.

Bruce noted that Duffy has indicated he will resign "on or about April 1, 1963" when he is ready to start operating the new nursing home in Terra Linda which he has designed largely to replace the present county hospital, if patients can be persuaded to elect it under new freedom allowed by the state.

Supervisor William Gnos indicated desire to see the physician's job made fulltime.

San Jose School Board Will Meet Tonight

Drainage and grading at the Meadow Park School site, hiring of three teachers and a custodian, and Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s request for a power line right-of-way across the San Jose Intermediate School campus are to be discussed by San Jose School District trustees at their meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the district administration building in Novato.

Victim Of Shark Making Recovery

LeRoy French, 24, of San Rafael, who escaped from the jaws of a shark off the Farallon islands Sunday, faces at least three to four weeks in the hospital.

And he and his fiancée, pretty Carolann (Cam) McMenamin, 23, of San Rafael, face a decision. They were to be married this Saturday, but the shark may change the plans.

LeRoy, who is making a good recovery, wants to go right ahead and be married in the hospital, but Cam, who had been looking forward to a church wedding, is thinking about what she'll miss.

"You like to have something you can remember," she said. Cam, a secretary, for a San Francisco law firm, has taken a week off so she can be with LeRoy at the hospital.

"We have to make a decision soon," she said.

LeRoy, a partner in a San Rafael skin diving shop, is an experienced skin diver. He said the shark attack would not keep him from diving again.

LeRoy, son of auto dealer James E. French Jr., fought off the shark with his spear gun. His physician, Dr. Douglas Duncan of San Francisco, said French suffered 20 slashes, most of them to the bone in his left leg. Tendons in the leg and in his left wrist had to be repaired.

Barring complications, Doctor Duncan said, French will be in the hospital from three to four weeks. The doctor said it is too early to tell if French will have any permanent injuries.

"Fortunately, he's a strong boy," Doctor Duncan said. "That's what saved him."

Tam, Tiburon Ask County Fire Zoning

Tamapais Fire Protection District joined today with the corresponding Tiburon body in the latter's request that county fire zones be established.

Administrator Alan Bruce told the supervisors that his new assistant, John F. Barrows, is already at work consulting fire chiefs, contractors and others interested with regard to the Tiburon proposal.

scionable for me to seek another office at this time."

He promised to support whatever candidate is selected by the Democratic caucus which will meet Saturday in Santa Rosa.

Marin's Republican County Central Committee met until midnight last night in a "hair down" discussion of the November campaign, the aspirants for office and the strategy of the special election.

The delegation attending the First District caucus executive board meeting Saturday in Eureka was authorized to act "without instructions." But the three-hour session showed Clausen as favorite of the group for Republican candidate.

James McNab of Ross, one of the last speakers, summarized the meeting by saying that after airing all the problems and the candidates, it "seems the consensus of this meeting is overwhelming" for Clausen.

CLAUSEN STRONG

At least two speakers had proposed backing John A. Buserud of Santa Rosa, who was GOP candidate for state treasurer. One man and one woman had taken the floor on behalf

Education Board Accepts School Job

New buildings and alterations at Terra Linda High School were accepted Saturday at an inspection by San Rafael board of education members.

The work accepted included the music building and assembly court built by W. A. Kubon and Co. of San Rafael, and the administration area contracted by Zoellner Construction Co. of San Rafael.

of Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley. But 15 or more spoke in favor of Clausen, who lost the November election by 3,000 votes while polling nearly 100,000.

Marin's official delegates to Saturday's executive session will be Gerald Misner, county committee chairman who presided over last night's meeting, and David Winslow, the immediate past chairman. In addition, Norman G. Livermore has been appointed to attend and Mrs. Lee Sherry, state central committee vice chairman, is eligible. Henry Broderick and William O. Weissich are also expected to attend as observers.

Purpose of the meeting is to lay ground rules for an endorsing session the following Saturday.

SERIOUS CONTENDER

Dr. McCabe became a serious contender for the Democratic endorsement with last night's action by the Sonoma Central Committee. Its meeting also attended by Sonoma members of the state central committee, voted 19-to-2 in favor of McCabe's endorsement. One of the two minority votes went to Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands, Northern California chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and the other to William Grader of Fort Bragg, Miller's West Coast representative.

The action was interpreted as meaning that the entire Sonoma County delegation, which may be 28 or 30 strong next Saturday, would vote as a bloc for McCabe, a 44-year-old native of Napa who is dean at Sonoma State. He was Sonoma County chairman for Miller and had said at last Saturday's Willits meeting he was committed to Grader's candidacy.

Bus Service On Commuter Club Agenda

The Mill Valley Commuters Club will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall to discuss ways of improving bus service to Marin County commuters.

James A. Bollier, club president, in announcing the meeting, propounded six questions to be discussed and said the club believes the answer to each is an "unequivocal yes."

Questions are:
"Seating — Are passengers, who are paying for seats, having to stand all the way to San Francisco?"

"Schedules — Should present bus schedules be revised and more buses made available?"

"Routes — Can existing bus routes be changed with resulting benefits to the commuters and at no additional cost to Greyhound?"

"Equipment — Are improvements needed to eliminate unsafe and unhealthy conditions?"

"Parking — Would commuters be inconvenienced by current proposals to provide a two-hour parking limit on Miller Avenue between Evergreen and Tamapais High School?"

"Shelters — Are more bus stop shelters required?"

Teamsters Official's Conviction Supported

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a 4-4 tie vote, the Supreme Court upheld today the conviction of William Presser, a Teamsters Union official in Ohio, on a charge of obstructing justice. Presser is under an eight-months prison sentence.

The charge grew out of the inquiry by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee into improper uses of union funds. Presser was accused specifically of tearing and mutilating an invoice subpoenaed by the subcommittee.

The invoice from a jeweler bore the names of eight persons who received $100 silver champagne buckets in 1955 paid for with funds of Teamsters Joint Council 41, Cleveland.

In appealing, Presser contended he had not received a fair and impartial trial. The high court affirmed the conviction in a brief order which said it was divided, 4-4, and that Justice Goldberg, newest member of the court, had taken no part in consideration of the case.

The high court also:
1. Refused to reconsider its decision of last June that a California law permitting imprisonment of a narcotics addict as a criminal is unconstitutional. The state's petition for reconsideration noted that the individual involved in the high court's decision, Lawrence

Robinson of Los Angeles, died before the June ruling. It also said that at a rehearing the state would explain a new "enlightened program" in effect in California for handling addicts.

Justices Clark, Harlan and Stewart said the court should have vacated its decision since Robinson died before the ruling.

2. Declined to rule on the question whether there is federal power to compel the executive director of the Port of New York Authority to produce records demanded by a House Judiciary Committee. The Justice Department sought a ruling on this federal vs. state power issue in connection with refusal by Austin J. Tobin, Port Authority director, to surrender subpoenaed documents.

Dr. Rafferty Now Has Right To Try Out His School Plans

Election of Dr. Max Rafferty as state superintendent of public instruction makes one thing abundantly clear — most Californians are not satisfied with their schools the way they are today.

It does not, in our opinion, mean that California wants to go back to the Little Red Schoolhouse, which Dr. Rafferty so freely displayed throughout his campaign. We hope that Dr. Rafferty doesn't believe that it does.

Dr. Rafferty will quickly find in Sacramento that many of the things he talked about so glibly are not practically possible. He has never before experienced the inertia of bureaucratic organization. His handful of personal appointees will not be a drop in the bucket of workers who will remain.

Even so, he must and will attempt to make changes. And it is right that he should. It is also right and proper that he have an opportunity to show what his ideas, with which he was elected, can do for the state's educational program.

Thus it must be that those who did not actively support him, indeed those who actively opposed him, should now step aside and give him a chance.

The people of California decided they wanted a change in the educational system; they elected him to make it; he deserves the opportunity.

And we hope too that the California Teachers Association, which supported his opponent, will note a second lesson to be learned from this election.

Dr. Rafferty proved on a statewide basis what has been proven in Marin several times, that someone who has something to offer can best sell it by taking it to the people directly.

We mention this not to belittle the CTA's support in a campaign. We mention this to illustrate something we've tried to tell the CTA before—that the way to correct problems in schools is to take them to the ones who have the deepest concern, the fathers and mothers who are the public.

We believe it applies on a school district level as well—if there is something wrong in a school district, the best way to solve it is not for the teachers to strike, not to apply sanctions against the district, but to put the problem before the voters. They can solve it through their elected representatives.

We wish Dr. Rafferty well and will be watching interestedly and closely the program he plans to present to us.

The Romance Of Old Houses

Marin has a few old houses haunted with the ghostly memories of former tenants and odd bits of history.

Abandoned houses are always interesting. They are invariably subjects for speculation by the imaginative and the gossipy. Children are drawn to these houses like iron to a magnet.

There is one interesting abandoned house in Ross that always fascinates us. What stories it might tell if houses could talk! Most neighborhoods have one or two.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Willits Caucus Showed Demos Will Be Campaigning In Earnest

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Republicans who were stunned by the out-pouring of votes for the late Clam Miller and who may be inclined to write it off as a "memorial" vote, should have been a mouse in the corner Saturday at the First District Democratic caucus in Willits' Brooktrails Lodge. The only trouble is there wasn't any room in the corner for a mouse, it was occupied by a Democrat.

Fifty reservations had been made for the caucus luncheon. The day before, the lodge was called and told perhaps they should be ready for 100.

More than 200 enthusiastic Democrats showed up. They praised each other individually and collectively, they praised the late Clem Miller and stood in a minute's silent tribute to his memory.

There was no doubting the enthusiasm for the battle ahead, one of the strangest in political history.

ACTUALLY IT WILL come down to a three-week campaign. Van Dempsey, executive secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, warned them "there's no use campaigning against Santa Claus." It's a wasted effort, he said.

What must be done between now and Jan. 2, he said, is first, registration—"you only have about 15 days and about 20 per cent of Democrats drop from the rolls after a general election."

The time from Dec. 10 to Jan. 1 is "the most dangerous time" for the party, he said. This is a crucial time for organizational work, he pointed out, a time when "family projects and Christmas affairs are likely to conflict with political activity." He said "headquarters have to be manned and operating. Things have to be done. The campaign may be between Jan. 5 and 22, but the work has to be done in advance."

DON BRADLEY of Ross, key planner in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's campaigns, warned against "fragmentation" of the Democratic effort either between candidates or in getting the work done.

"This campaign must be done fast," he pointed out. "We'll also need a concentrated campaign to pull the people out to vote for, in a special election, they don't have any other reason for turning out."

Roger Kent, Northern California chairman of the state central committee, promised staff help from the state committee for the congressional campaign.

And there was more than a little speculation that a member of the Kennedy family would pay a visit.

There was no pledge required of any candidates who appeared before the caucus that they would not run if not endorsed. But "the hope" was reiterated over and over again that "those not nominated will pitch in on our choice."

MRS. KATHARINE Miller, Clem's widow, made her position crystal clear in a telegram to the caucus. "I have reached an irrevocable decision that in fairness to my children I cannot, and will not be a candidate for the office." The group accepted the decision without question.

Who will be the endorsed candidate?

Roger Kent can have it if he wants to put on the pressure. If he doesn't want it badly, and someone can really convince Sen. Joe Rattigan of this, Rattigan might yet be the Democratic nominee.

Don't write completely off someone who apparently said they weren't interested. Dr. George E. McCabe, Sonoma State College dean is being urged to run by members of the Sonoma County Central Committee. Emmet Hagerty of Sonoma Valley, a San Francisco attorney, said at Willits he was there to urge others to run. But he didn't take himself out of contention. Now he's "definitely a potential candidate."

Need Parking, Transit Authority

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

This is an "open letter" to all gas-driven Marinites, otherwise known as "the commuter."

I am one of those commuters, but what we commuters have accomplished is "traffic strangulation" of our most priceless commodity in the Bay Area: San Francisco. Building more and more bridges would add to and not deter from this strangulation; therefore, the only alternative is a Metropolitan Transit and Parking Authority owned and operated by the people of Marin County.

The master plan of such a transit system must be coordinated between a local bus system to all communities of the county and fast electric trains to San Francisco via the Golden Gate Bridge. The ultimate of which travel between Novato and San Francisco would be 25 minutes.

Before someone jumps on the statement regarding trains on the Golden Gate Bridge, Joseph B. Strauss, builder of the bridge, anticipating the future needs for the span, indicated on the plans how a lower deck could be added—for trains only.

I am a Marinite by birth and by choice (September 1919), only six of the 40-odd years have been spent out of California and the Bay Area (four of those six years have been in the armed services). From 1947 to 1962 I have lived five years in San Jose and 10 years in San Francisco. It is a contagious blight called urban sprawl that has infested the lower peninsula area. I don't want that to happen to Marin County.

The fate and future of our Marin community is in the hands of its people. "Let's all serve Marin County together." S. WARREN BUREL

Miller Campaign One For Books

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I agree with Chip Day in Thursday's I-J that the campaign waged by the Democrats for the dead Mr. Miller was one for the books.

I telephoned the gentleman who signed the letter mailed to be received the day before election to inquire why he was asking me to vote for a dead man in order to be able to vote later for Bill Bagley, while simultaneously urging Mr. Bagley's defeat in a newspaper ad.

I didn't get an answer to my question, but I did gather that the gentleman was very upset, that he had been used, that he had agreed to sign the letter some time ago and had never authorized its last minute mailing.

The Miller campaign was wondrously successful. It also was ghoulish, cynical and unprincipled. The next time the Democratic leaders of Marin County issue their periodical pious protestations of devotion to ethical campaigning, let us trust the voters will receive them with the bored yawn they deserve.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Latest story from Tel Aviv concerns Israeli private Avrim who tried to wheedle a three-day pass from his captain. "Don't be silly," the captain told him. "To get a three-day pass in this man's army, you've got to earn it with some spectacular exploit."

A few days later Avrim ascended everybody by capturing a brand-new Arab tank. Of course, he was rewarded with a three-day pass. Less than a month later, he captured another Arab tank and earned another pass. When he bagged a third Arab tank he became a national hero, and was promoted to captain himself.

Some time later, Private Moshe, who happened to be Avrim's first cousin, suggested, "Hey, Captain Avrim, how about one of those three-day passes for your favorite cousin?" "Earn one like I did," snapped Captain Avrim. "I couldn't," mourned Moshe. "I haven't your courage, or initative, or flair for the spectacular."

Captain Avrim locked the door of his office, pulled down the shade, then whispered to his cousin, "Listen, Moshe. It's not as hard as you think. Take one of our own tanks out of the compound some night and drive out into the desert. Pretty soon you'll meet up with some Arab tank driver who's also looking for a three-day pass..."

Are Car Bumper Strips Considered As Campaigning Near The Polls?

Among the things that the election brought out were a whole bunch of complaints. Many of the polling places in Novato were in schools, and many of the teachers supported Richardson for state superintendent of schools.

Whether by accident, or on purpose, many cars were parked at the schools with the stickers both in windows and on bumpers, boosting Richardson for superintendent.

As one can tell by the election returns, there were quite a few supporters for Rafferty. These people did not take it lightly having the Richardson stickers even near the polling places.

County clerk George Gnos said that one opinion was that having bumper stickers on cars does not constitute campaigning within 100 feet of the polling places.

I know that complaints were made all around about that situation. The Novato office of the Independent-Journal received many phone calls about it. Some calls even came in the day after election.

When my wife and I went to vote at the Lynnwood School, we saw two such cars about 150 feet from the door to the polling place.

I doubt if such a school issue will come up for several years, but it is something that people should put down in the back of their memories to check before the next election for state superintendent of schools.

ONE BAD HABIT I have always had is to remember campaign promises. One thing I like to remember is the array of these promises given during a political campaign.

Some years ago, when I lived in Washington State, one candidate for county commissioner (the same office as supervisor here) made a promise about building a section of road in the county. There was a one half stretch of it missing. If built, this section would connect two roads, making the second longest road in the county.

Well, the candidate was elected and the road was forgotten.

Four years later, he went around making the same promise. Now, my bad habit of remembering campaign promises came out. I politely reminded him that it was exactly the same promise he had made four years earlier, and probably wasn't any better promise at one time than it was at another.

It is almost unbelievable, but after his re-election, the road was built.

THE REASON for this long explanation is simple. I am watching other campaign promises.

Which one of the candidates promised to take down all of his signs the day after election? Whichever one it was, must have forgotten a bunch in the Novato area.

I also remember a pre-primary campaign for the county supervisor from North Marin area. During the campaign, there was a lot of promise to get an ambulance stationed in Novato during the weekends when there were so many accidents.

What ever happened to that ambulance?

NOVATO HAS a nice bright shiny white street sweeper. The purpose of a street sweeper, as I understand it, is to clean the streets.

Last Friday before 8 a.m., it was going north on South Novato Boulevard. The proud driver was waving to people he knew along the street. My, but he was proud of the nice new machine.

But the sweeper was not sweeping!

It was just going up the street! It passed over several conspicuous piles of manure and at Nave Shopping Center, right over a bunch of broken glass in the street. There was sand and gravel leaves all over the street that could have been swept up.

I know, the driver was probably going back to the corporation yard after a night shift, but he could have swept the dirty street enroute back to the yard.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Democratic Victories Points Up Weakness Of President Kennedy

WASHINGTON. — One of the most significant aspects of the election is not visible on the surface. It is implicit in the results—but it is concealed by the results.

It is obvious that in holding intact its large majorities in both Senate and House, when by nearly every precedent it should have lost 20 to 40 seats in the off-year voting, the Democratic Party has won a massive political victory and a notable vote of confidence.

But behind the decisive ascendancy of the Democratic Party, gaining seats in Congress when normally it would have lost seats, there emerges the basic political weakness of President Kennedy himself.

HOW CAN IT be accurate to say that this great Democratic Party victory carries with it the signs of Mr. Kennedy's personal political weakness?

This is the reason: When Kennedy was running for the presidency in 1960, the Democratic Party lost seats in Congress.

When Kennedy was not running for office this year, the Democratic Party gained seats in Congress.

In 1960 nearly every winning Democratic candidate for Congress ran ahead of Kennedy, but still the party lost 21 seats in the House.

This year, with the Presidency not at stake, not only did the Democratic Party hold its own in the off-year—but this in itself an historic achievement—but the Republicans lost seats to the Democrats.

THUS BENEATH the remarkable continuity of Democratic Party strength, there lurks the uncertain position of the President himself.

Everybody points to the fact that for the first time since 1934, at the near peak of the popularity of the New Deal, the party in power gained strength in the off-year. In 1934 nobody suggested that this showed the weakness of Franklin Roosevelt.

There's a difference. In 1934 the Democratic Congress which slightly increased its majority had been a consistent supporter of President Roosevelt.

This year the Democratic Congress, which has now slightly increased its majority, has been in frequent opposition to President Kennedy on major aspects of the New Frontier.

JUST AS President Eisenhower's massive political strength tended to obscure the growing weakness of the Republican Party, so today the massive strength of the Democratic Party tends to obscure the political weakness of President Kennedy.

This is why the 1962 returns cast a shadow across the path of the President for 1964, because they show that, while Kennedy's presence on the ticket in 1960 was a party liability, his absence from the ticket this fall was a party asset.

Despite the setback in the Congressional elections, the Republicans gained some strength in the country. They held New York state decisively, and Republican Governors took the state capitals away from the Democrats in the powerful and populous states of Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Ohio.

This means that the Republicans will be in a stronger position to make a bid for the Presidency in 1964.

IN TYPHOON'S PATH—This is the main thoroughfare in Agana, capital of Guam, which was laid waste yesterday by Karen, most disastrous typhoon on record ever to hit the western Pacific island. Damage is described as far worse than that wrought in wresting Guam from the Japanese in World War II. This picture was made in 1957. (AP Wirephoto)

Karen Damages Guam More Than War

HONOLULU (AP)—Shattering Typhoon Karen left at least five natives dead on Guam, damage in the hundreds of millions of dollars and 45,000 persons homeless.

Acting Gov. Manuel Guerrero described the destruction as "much more serious than that of 1944," when U.S. troops liberated the island from Japan.

Hundreds were reported injured, but no exact count has come from the western Pacific island, still out of communications except for a few emergency circuits. Hospitals and medical centers handled a steady stream of casualties, sparse reports said.

The typhoon crashed across the tiny island hub of U.S. military defenses in the western Pacific late Sunday night and Monday morning with winds reaching 174 mile an hour.

As Guam dug out of the blitz, Karen rumbled across the Pacific toward Okinawa and important American military bases there.

The U. S. Air Force's 54th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron located the typhoon 657 miles west-northwest of Guam at 9 a.m., JST, Tuesday—7 p.m., Monday, EST. Winds in the eye were gauged at a potent 167 miles an hour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu said the typhoon could brush the northern Philippine Islands within the next 24 to 48 hours.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Agency in Tokyo said one Japanese fishing boat—the 39-ton Daiyumar—has been unheard from since Monday midnight. The boat, with 15 aboard, was operating northwest of Guam when the storm hit.

Had Guam not had a three-day warning that the monstrous tropical blow—the worst in the island's history—was coming, countless numbers would have died, the Navy said.

More than half the 40,000 natives and 30,000 military personnel and dependents were left homeless. All civilian communications facilities were knocked out, schools were destroyed and 90 per cent of all civilian buildings on the island were damaged beyond repair, Guerrero's report said. There was no word on the extent of damage to military installations.

First official word of the devastation wrought by Karen came from Guerrero's headquarters to Honolulu via civil defense emergency facilities.

Edwin Engledow, Guerrero's press secretary, said damages were "well into the hundreds of millions of dollars."

The exact number of injured was not mentioned either in Engledow's message or a later

Navy announcement, which placed deaths at five, Engledow said six were dead.

Engledow quoted Guerrero as saying "the storm has completely wiped out the works and investment of 17 years. The present situation is much more serious than that of 1944 when U.S. troops bombarded the island to liberate it from the Japanese."

President Kennedy declared the island—under U.S. jurisdiction since 1898—a disaster area, making it eligible for federal loans to rebuild.

American Red Cross headquarters in Tokyo said 45,000 residents had been left homeless by the typhoon. Red Cross officials were to fly to Guam on the first available planes. Other officials from the Philippines were to fly to the scene.

Tokyo Red Cross headquarters said "mass feeding facilities are taxed to the limit."

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador. Only Russia, Canada, China and the United States exceed it in size.

Two Trucks Overturn On Road Jobs

It was a bad day yesterday for hauling construction materials as far as the E. A. Forde Co. of Corte Madera was concerned.

Two of the firm's trucks overturned on the steep roads of Fairfax and San Anselmo within three hours yesterday afternoon. One spilled a load of gravel; the other, a load of asphalt.

Fairfax police said the asphalt truck, driven by Jack W. Atnip, 42, of 44 Greenbrae Boardwalk, Greenbrae, overturned when it got too close to the embankment on Redwood Road. The asphalt was being taken to a paving job on the street. Atnip was treated for a chest cut at Marin General Hospital.

George E. Minahan of Corte Madera, told San Anselmo police he was driving the gravel truck up Oak Springs Drive when he ran out of gasoline and the truck slipped back and rolled over before he could switch to an auxiliary gas tank. The gravel, on its way to a street construction job at the top of the hill, spilled, some of it falling on the hood of a sedan owned by Marion H. Cadwell of San Francisco.

The car was not damaged, police said, and Minahan was not injured.

Jobs Open

The Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners at Hamilton Air Force Base is accepting applications for vacancies as air reserve technicians in two categories—supervisory operations assistant and medical administrative assistant. Both positions are at a salary of 5,355 per year and are open to men only.

Project To Halt Drake Traffic

Traffic will be stopped on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Wolfe Grade and Bon Air Road from 10 a.m. to noon tomorrow while pre-stressed concrete beams from the pedestrian overpass at Wolfe Grade are raised.

Eastbound traffic on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard should detour via College Avenue, Magnolia Avenue and Bon Air Road, said Arthur Knutson, assistant director of the county public works department. Westbound traffic should turn on Bon Air Road and follow Magnolia Avenue to College Avenue.

The overpass, being built by Ghilotti Brothers, of San Rafael, will be finished in about a month, Knutson said.

Crab Boats To Arrive At Sausalito Tomorrow

Five crab boats were expected to unload their catches between 2 and 3 p.m. today at Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito, according to the firm's owner, S. J. (Lefty) Sturiale.

"I couldn't tell you what the catches are like," Sturiale said this morning. "If I did, I would be telling a lie."

He said nine more boats are expected tomorrow afternoon at his dock. Three of the boats are from Sausalito and 11 from Eureka.

"A lean catch but somewhat improved" over last year's has been predicted by the department of fish and game. Last season's total catch was 680,000 pounds. This year's is expected to be between 728,000 and 1,600,000 pounds, based on a three-week test made between Half Moon Bay and Russian River just prior to the season's opening, according to Ward Gillilan, fish and game information officer.

Wife Tosses Hot Water At Husband

A Marin City husband suffered burns of his face, head and shoulders when his wife tossed a pot of boiling water at him during a domestic quarrel Sunday afternoon.

Alvis Allen, 32, of House C-12, door 92, went to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

Deputy Sheriff James L. Current said Mrs. Cleo Allen told him she and her husband argued, and he slapped her. She picked up a kettle and splashed him with hot water.

On Dean's List

RICHARD M. Sims III of Tiburon has been named to the dean's list at Amherst College for outstanding academic achievement during last spring's term. Sims, son of Marin Superior Court Judge and Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr., is a sophomore at Amherst and a 1961 graduate of Redwood High School.

Yuba County sheriff's officers have just about given up the search for 29-year-old Winifred Long of Mill Valley, missing wife of Marysville rancher Alvin Long.

"We're almost at an end," Deputy Sheriff Dan Montgomery said today. "We've learned nothing about what may have happened to her."

Mrs. Long has been missing since June 10, when she went to visit her estranged husband at his ranch. Deputies searched the 320-acre ranch, including the house and swimming pool, but found no evidence of the woman.

A check of the Mill Valley area also revealed nothing. Montgomery said there is "very little we can do now."

The law governing finding of hidden pirate treasure in the Virgin Islands stipulates that the finger negotiate directly with the U.S. secretary of the treasury as to how much taxes should be paid.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 13, the 317th day of 1962 with 48 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1960, Turkish President Cemal Gursel announced he had abolished the ruling national unity committee and formed a 23-member committee to prepare a return to democratic government.

In 1961, cellist Pablo Casals played a presidential concert at the White House.

A thought for the day: British statesman Sir Alan Herbert said: "The critical period in matrimony is breakfast time."

Must Be Realistic About Giving Opponents Tricks Without Kicks

Some tricks belong to the opponents no matter how you kick and scream.

When possible, give the opponents their tricks and save your energy for more important work.

on the first club trick South can lead the next club from dummy and guess whether to play high or low.

It costs South nothing to give up the first club, and he may find out enough to play the suit properly.

South won the first trick with the queen of spades and led the eight of diamonds to dummy's nine.

He returned a club and finessed the ten, forcing out West's ace.

HUGE GRIN
At this stage South's face was one huge grin. "I'm playing like a horse fire!" he announced, but his horse slowed down in the stretch.

West returned a heart to dummy's king, and South continued the clubs. When East got his first club trick he returned the jack of hearts, and South shrewdly refused the trick. Now East switched to diamonds.

South had to lose three clubs and at least one trick in each red suit. Down one.

BAD START
South got off to a bad start because he was unrealistic about the clubs. The defenders are sure to make at least two club tricks no matter how favorably the suit breaks.

It can cost South nothing to lead a low club from his own hand to begin with.

As the cards lie, West must play the ace of clubs on South's low club. This tells the whole story, and South can get three club tricks despite the bad break.

RETURNS HEART
West returns a heart to dummy's king and South leads a club through East. If East puts up the queen, he is allowed to hold the trick.

On the next club lead from dummy South can finesse with the ten and take the rest of the suit. South makes his game with three clubs, threespades, two hearts, and one diamond.

Bay naval base Sunday as the island situation remained tense. Other Marines meanwhile bow their heads in prayer led by Chaplain Lt. James B. Esk-ridge of Sherman, Miss., on Suicide Ridge next to boundary road and fence (center photo). Cool despite rock throwing by Cubans, Marines manned wea-

Cuba Strength Show Off

Guantanamo Tank Parade Called Off

GUANTANAMO BAY, (P)—The U.S. Marines called off a show of armored force today along the fence between this naval base and Cuba. It apparently had been intended to impress Cuban militiamen who had been throwing rocks at the leathernecks.

Plans for a parade of tanks were announced Monday night in a notice posted at the base news center.

"There will be an armored run along the fence at 8:30 a.m.," it said.

HURRIED TALKS

A hurried conference was held in the headquarters of Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, after news of the plan was sent to the United States. The show was canceled.

The notice posted at the news center did not say how many tanks would take part, nor give an official reason for the display.

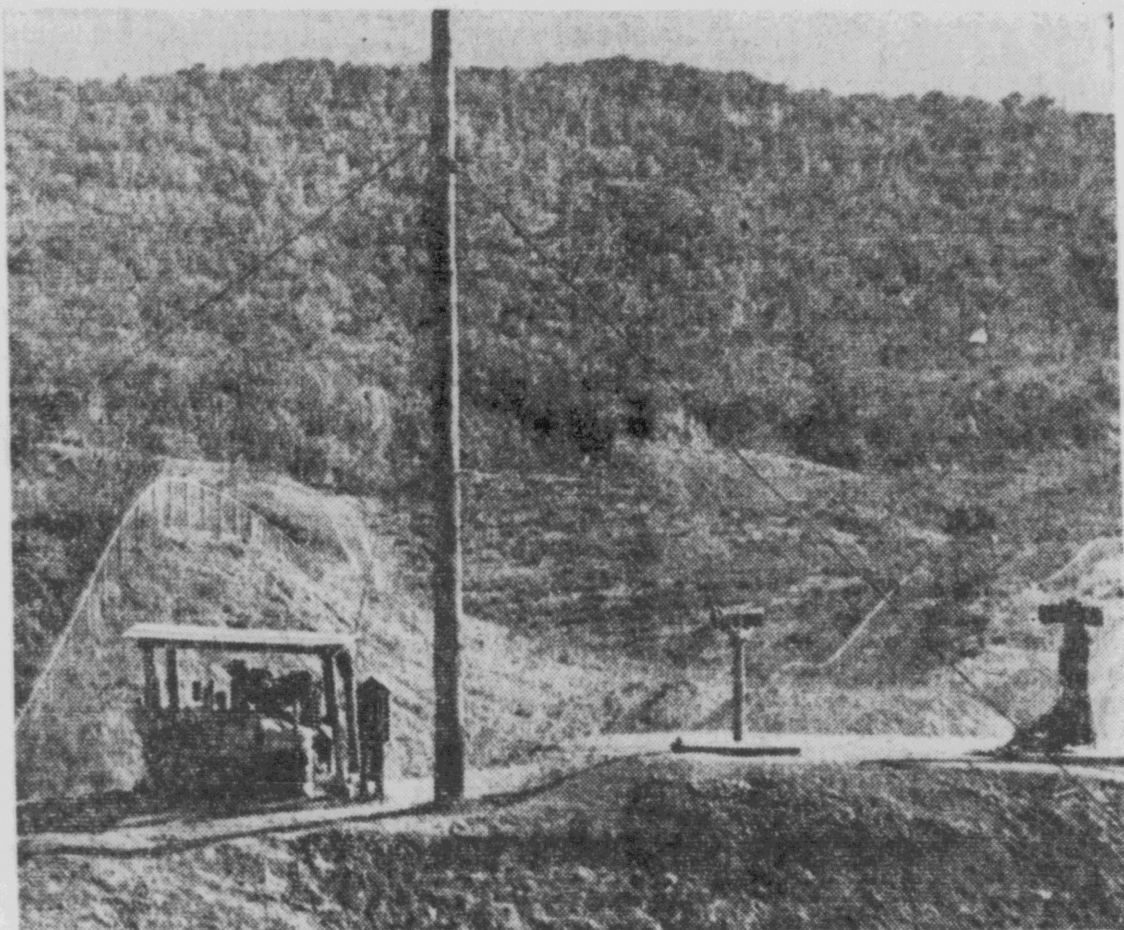

In one incident, Capt. Patrick E. O'Toole of San Clemente, Calif., said militiamen began throwing rocks at Marines building a machinegun bunker at one point along the 25-mile fence.

FLAG FLOWN

A small American flag, which Cpl. Gordon L. Fine of San Clemente had raised, was flying over the bunker.

Capt. O'Toole said the Marines reacted like "good professionals." They kept on building the bunker.

So far not a shot has been fired along the fence and no one has been hurt by flying rocks since the Marines, charged up for combat, arrived here in force hours after President Kennedy announced

Castro Agents Claim CIA Saboteur Caught

HAVANA (P)—Cuban security officials said today they have smashed an attempt to sabotage the copper mines of Matahambre and captured a man they called the principal chief of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency in Cuba.

Radio Havana identified the captive leader as Miguel Angel Orco Crespo, once an army officer under ousted President Fulgencio Batista. It said two groups of saboteurs landed near Matahambre, on Cuba's western tip, with half a ton of weapons. It called them CIA agents.

The mining center is 20 miles northwest of Pinar del Rio, capital of Pinar del Rio Province. It is linked by cableway with the Gulf of Mexico coast. This cableway was described as one of the targets of the saboteurs.

St. Pierre, Martinique, was destroyed May 8, 1902, by the volcanic eruption of 4,799-foot-high Mount Pelee.

70 Lbs. Pearls Stolen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Police, checking leads "thick and fast" in the theft of pearls valued at 2.5 million dollars on the retail market, began giving lie detector tests today to a number of suspects.

Police also planned to check with San Francisco customs officials in an effort to establish the duty value on the 70 pounds of natural and cultured pearls. Police Chief Cato Hightower said the owners of the pearls told him an inventory on the stolen jewels would be unavailable indefinitely.

Hightower said the pearls were advertised on their display at Montgomery Ward's on Friday as a "$250,000 collection."

Glass Door Broken

The glass in a door at the West End Market, 1619 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was broken some time between 6 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. yesterday, owner Joseph C. Soldavini reported to police.

Black Pt. 'Bomb' Just A Marker

A possible "unexploded bomb," reported stuck in the mudflats near Black Point, turned out to be a spent aircraft float marker. Sheriff's Deputy Theodore V. Hughes reported today.

At low tide about 4 p.m. yesterday, the deputy boarded a Coast Guard boat to look for the object with the help of Robert Nichols, 16, of 45 Havenwood Drive, Black Point, who had first spotted the object.

It turned out to be a float marker 19 inches long and about two-thirds of an inch in diameter.

Anti-Digit Leagues In Sausalito

Headquarters of the Anti-Digit Dialing League has been moved from San Francisco to Sausalito.

The reason, according to Neil E. Davis, president pro tem of the Marin County branch, is that the bulk of the ADDL directors live in Marin.

The league, which organized to fight all-numeral dialing, has a small office in Sausalito, Davis said, and gets its mail at Post Office Box 966, Sausalito. "Phones are for people," a 10-page pamphlet on the league's beliefs and aims, may be obtained at a small charge by writing to the organization.

Next meeting of the Marin chapter will be at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Juanita's Galley, at which time plans are to be made for an East Bay ADDL party.

Marin Women To March Sunday For Muscular Dystrophy Funds

Twelve hundred Marin County women volunteers will conduct their annual "door to door march against muscular dystrophy" through the most densely populated areas of the county next Saturday and Sunday.

This solicitation on the average brings in 86 per cent of the money collected each year for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn., according to Paul J. Patocchi of San Rafael, president of the Marin County chapter, and Mrs. Hans Hartman of Corte Madera, campaign chairman.

The marchers will be out at whatever hours they find it possible to canvass during the two days.

Their area of activity will stretch from Novato to Sausalito, including Belvedere and Tiburon on the east and as far west as Fairfax.

Additional to this personal solicitation, 1,500 money can-nisters will be placed in shops throughout the county.

Mail solicitation, according to district director Owen W. Hanson of Sleepy Hollow, will be restricted to previous donors.

Goal of the Marin County campaign this year is a minimum $10,000, the amount raised here last year.

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brustatori is honorary chairman of the campaign in this county.

San Rafael Van, Storage Moving To New Quarters About Dec. 15

New quarters for San Rafael Van and Storage are expected to be ready Dec. 15 on Du Bois Street. Work is now proceeding on a concrete tilt-up building at Marin Storage and Trucking property by William H. McDevitt Co.

San Rafael Van has been at 634 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael for the past 14 years, and also has additional storage facilities on Woodland Avenue. Goods at both locations will be consolidated on Du Bois Street.

The new building will provide more than 115,000 cubic feet of palletized storage space, according to Mrs. Clarence Hansen. Outside parking of 14,000 square feet will be available.

A DINNER MEETING of Marin County Estate Planning Council will be held tonight at 6:30 at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera on the subject "A Problem in Estate Planning."

The council recently elected new officers, each one representing a different profession: Attorney Robert W. Pendergrass is president; trust officer Robert M. Clark, vice president; CPA Robert J. Soderblom, secretary; insurance underwriter Jay Hale, treasurer.

JULIA ROBERTSON of San Rafael will be among Borden Co. employees to be honored tonight for 25 years of service. A dinner is being held in San Francisco.

IMPORTED CAR SHOW at Brooks Hall, San Francisco, Nov. 20-25, will bring out many car clubs entered in contests and displays from throughout the Bay Area.

Any driver with an imported sports car may enter the Autocross and Gymkhana contests. Two Autocross contests are scheduled: One for Thanksgiving Day, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and another for Sunday, Nov. 24, 9 to 5. A Gymkhana contest will be held Saturday, Nov. 25, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

We notice that the Marin Gran Turismo of Ross will hold the Autocross of Nov. 25 in front of the show entrance. Contact Gene Babow, 116 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield, in the evening for details.

The Morgan Plus-4 Club, Box 993, Ross, will have booth space at the show.

Any driver with a navigator and car, imported or domestic, is eligible to enter the rallies held in conjunction with the show—each evening starting at 7 p.m., except on Thanksgiving. Drivers should register at least a half hour before starting time at the entry booth in front of the show entrance on Fulton Street between Larkin and Hyde.

MEMBER RETAIL STORES of the National Retail Merchants Association are being urged to eliminate use of the terms "list price," "original list price," "suggested retail price" or "catalog price" from their advertising.

The action was prompted by the fact that this terminology in local retail advertising has little or no validity. Few, if any advertised "list prices" are the current, usual and customary selling price of an article.

The Federal Trade Commission has ruled that the use of these terms is false when the actual selling price in an area is significantly lower. It is legal when list and going selling price actually correspond.

During the past million years, at least four ice advances have occurred.

College To Present Singers

The 17-voice Berkeley Chamber Singers will present seldom-heard choral music as the third event in College of Marin's fall concert and lecture series at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Olney Hall.

The concert is open to the public without charge. Tickets are available in the college bookstore.

Director is Tikey Zes, a music instructor in the Oakland public schools.

The group will sing the major works "Magnificat," by Jacob Obrecht, and "Missa Fors Seulement" by Johannes Ockeghem.

Its shorter works will include "The Nightingale, The Organ of Delight," by Thomas Weelkes; "Flora Gave Me Fairest Flowers," by John Wilbye; "O Sleep, Fond Fancy," by Thomas Morley; "Adieu, Sweet Amaryllis," by Wilbye; "Ecco L'Aurora Con L'Aurata Fronte," by Andrew Gabrieli; "Fiere Silvestre," by Luca Marenzio; "Ecco Mormorar L'Onde," by Claudio Monteverdi; and "Five Songs, Opus 104," by Johannes Brahms.

Formed in 1942, the group has performed throughout Northern California.

Wins Medal

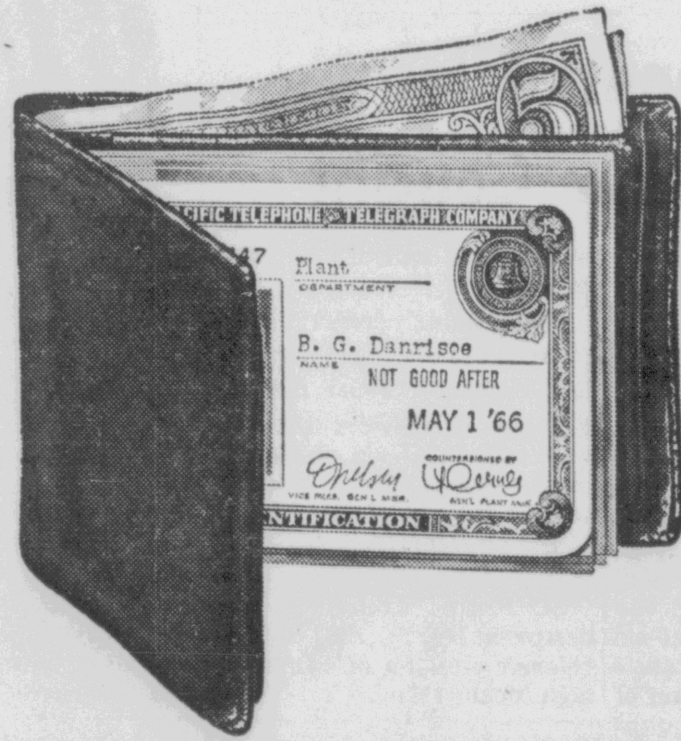

A good conduct medal was recently awarded to Carl L. Huffman, Navy quartermaster second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Huffman of 4 Hamilton Court, San Rafael. The Independent-Journal incorrectly listed Huffman's rank Saturday as quartermaster third class.

49er Confidence High, Then Low; Happy Medium Needed For Success

Confidence comes in delicately balanced proportions. Too much of the stuff is dangerous. So is an underdose. The 49ers were hit by both ailments this season, in addition to being hit pretty good for six losses, the last four in a row.

Red Hickey, a strong believer in building confidence, unintentionally gave his men an overdose of it at the outset of the season by describing them as the strongest team he ever coached.

Result? The Bears beat them in the NFL opener at Kezar. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say the 49ers beat themselves.

There was no question about who beat who the following week when the 49ers met the Lions in Detroit. It was a 45-24 Lion romp.

Then the home heroes got back on the beam, proving anew to themselves that they could block and tackle. Result? Three-in-a-row over the Vikings, Colts and a rematch with the Bears. Confidence now had been restored and in proper proportion.

THERE WAS no cockiness or overconfidence as Hickey and his warriors took off for Milwaukee to meet the champion Packers. "We respect them for what they are—a very solid club," said Hickey concerning the champs.

After leaving Milwaukee, soundly beaten by the most perfectly balanced team in pro football history, 49er confidence was shaken—and shaken badly. Philadelphia's Eagles, whipped 49-0 by the Packers last weekend, know the feeling.

DURING THEIR three-game dip since the Packer plastering, the 49ers have been pressing so hard that they have fallen victims to the usual result of tense efforts — ludicrous mistakes, missed blocks, missed tackles, intercepted passes.

It's sheer nonsense to attribute any other reason to 49er misfortunes although the rumor mongers have been advancing some fanciful ones, such as the one that went the rounds before last Sunday's game about the players putting out only a passable minimum for Hickey.

One way the 49ers can shake their slump is to rerun films of their last games and have a good laugh. It's a relaxing exercise — laughing at yourself once in a while when everything is going wrong.

USC First In UPI's Ratings

Southern California, rolling toward its first perfect-record football season since 1932, took over the No. 1 ranking today in the United Press International major college ratings.

Sporting a record of seven victories in seven tries and on the high road toward the Rose Bowl, Coach John McKay's Trojans received a total of 311 points in the weekly voting of the 35 coaches who make up the UPI board of coaches.

Alabama and Mississippi, two of the other three perfect-record major teams in the country, were rated second and third respectively while Dartmouth, the fourth unbeaten and untied major college eleven in the nation, did not receive a vote.

However, the Associated Press ratings announced last night listed Southern California second behind new leader Alabama with Mississippi rated third.

Northwestern, top-ranked in both polls last week, dropped to ninth on the A.P. list and seventh on UPI's.

The UPI ratings, with first place votes and won-lost records in parenthesis followed by total points:

1. Southern Cal (16) (7-0), 311; 2. Alabama (13) (8-0), 299; 3. Mississippi (3) (7-0), 250; 4. Wisconsin (2) (6-1), 240; 5. Texas (7-0-1), 211; 6. Missouri (1) (7-0-1), 118; 7. Northwestern (6-1), 102; 8. Minnesota (5-1-1), 102; 9. Arkansas (7-1), 84; 10. Louisiana State (6-1-1), 70.

Second to teams—11. Oregon, 34; 12. Penn State, 27; 13. Washington, 24; 14. Nebraska, 12; 15. Arizona State, 9; 16. (tie), Duke and Oklahoma (7); 18. Purdue, 6; 19. Kansas, 5; 20. Georgia Tech, 3.

The A.P.'s top 10 with first-place votes in parenthesis:

1. Alabama (17), 445; 2. Southern Cal (17), 445; 3. Mississippi (3), 375; 4. Wisconsin (8), 328; 5. Texas, 301; 6. Missouri, 244; 7. Arkansas, 196; 8. Minnesota, 152; 9. Northwestern, 119; 10. Louisiana State, 77.

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arizona State, Auburn, Dartmouth, Georgia Tech, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oregon, Oregon State, Penn State, Purdue, Washington.

AT THE STRETCH TURN—This was the field as it moved into the stretch turn of the Washington, D.C. International race yesterday, won by Match II with Ives Saint-Martin up. (AP Wirephoto)

French Horse Snares Mythical World Title

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The names on the printed ballot for best race horse of the year in the U.S.A. naturally are American thoroughbreds, but a write-in vote today probably would name France's Match II the winner if permissible.

All three of the leading Carry Back and Beau Purple, trailed the Frenchman in yesterday's $125,000 Washington, D.C., International. Kelso was beaten by one and a half lengths, Carry Back by six.

Match II's triumph over America's three best horses was a tremendous boost for the French bloodstock industry. Two of their horses had won previously, Worden II in 1953 and Master Boing in 1956.

The three French victories are second only to the five for the United States, which has the advantage of home grounds and more familiar conditions. The International is raced at a mile and a half on grass, but most European races are run the opposite of America's counter-clockwise route.

Match II could claim title to a mythical Horse of the World title after letting Kelso, Carry Back and Beau Purple have their own way for more than a mile and then taking the $70,000 first prize handily in the last sixteenth.

Match II, fourth betting choice after the Americans, returned $14.20, $6 and $4. Kelso paid $4 and $3.20 while Carry Back was worth $4.80 for show.

The All-American race until Match II took over found the Soviet Union's Zabeg in fourth place for the second straight year followed by France's Kistinie, England's Pardao, Germany's Opponent II, the Soviet Union's Livean, Italy's Delvin, Japan's Takamagahara, Beau Purple, Canada's Lebon M.L., and Peru's Profido.

Mangrum Stricken Again; Condition Reported Serious

APPLE VALLEY (UPI)—Dapper Lloyd Mangrum, former U.S. Open champion and once one of golf's big three, was in serious condition today from his second heart attack in four months.

Mangrum, 48, suffered an "acute coronary thrombosis," said Dr. Ronald Gabrielson. "The next 10 to 14 days will be important."

The famed golfer, who won the Open crown in 1946, was placed under sedation upon admission to St. Mary's Hospital late yesterday.

On July 15, Mangrum suffered what was described as a mild heart attack. He recently was given permission to start playing golf on a non-competitive basis, and was on the driving range yesterday when he felt a chest pain.

Mangrum went home, his doctor said, and telephoned for help. He was admitted to the hospital "in the acute phase of the attack."

Revenge Is Goal Of Cal Vs. Kansas

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Marv Levy of the University of California indicated the Bears will be out for revenge when they meet the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence on Saturday.

"This Kansas game means a lot to our team," he told the Northern California Football Writers Assn. Monday. "We were humiliated by them last year."

Kansas whipped the Bears 53-7 at Berkeley last season in the first football meeting between the two schools.

Levy would also like to have another victory on the books prior to his "Big Game" meeting with traditional rival Stanford on Nov. 24. To date, California has only one victory.

Kansas lost to Nebraska 40-16 last Saturday and Levy commented, "I don't know what that means. I don't count on it meaning anything."

Kansas goes into the game with a 5-3 record with California at 1-7.

The Bears held Washington 0-0 at the half last week before going under 27-0. Levy termed the Washington defense the best he has seen this season.

He complimented his guard John Erby, end Ron Vaughn and tackle Ron Calegari for solid performances against the Huskies. Levy also pointed out that because of injuries on his squad, center Roger Stull, end Bill Turner, fullback Mike Epstein and Calegari all had to play about 52 minutes of the game.

"That's too long to play and still be effective late in the game," he commented.

Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford faces the job of getting his Indians up for San Jose State this week after dropping the 39-14 verdict to Southern California.

Marin Rod-Gun Club To Nominate Officers At Friday Night Meet

There are two important reasons why each and every member of the Marin Rod and Gun Club should make an all out effort to attend the Nov. 16 meeting. First, the agenda will include nominations for officers and vacancies on the Board of directors for the coming year.

Second, the by-laws committee will read to the membership several recommended changes in the by-laws which affect all members.

Members will be asked to vote on these amendments at the December meeting.

Ray "Gus" Augusto has accepted the chairmanship of the monthly Saturday night family dinners which will be held at the clubhouse, Gus is hoping to get this program started in December or no later than January. He will need plenty of help, and any members interested in serving on the committee should get in touch with Gus.

A reminder: The MRGC annual Christmas party will be held at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, Dec. 22... Friday, Dec. 21, will be the election of officers for 1963.

TANGLED LINES: The following new members were initiated into the MRGC at the October meeting: Arnold Lauridsen, Leroy Kettner, Mario Cicchi, Jack Sims, Lloyd Seasholtz, George Jepson, Eric Henderson and Elmer Reeves. Chairman Bob Fagg and his committee for the 1963 budget are holding their first meeting tonight.

The proposed MRGC blood bank has gone the way of all flesh for lack of a chairman and co-chairman. Too bad. 'Twas a good idea while it lasted.

Monty Marzetta has accepted the chairmanship of the annual banquet committee. Leo Ciucci will be co-chairman. The date for this gala event is Saturday evening, Jan. 26.

Lucky winners of attendance awards at the October meeting were M. Zell, Jim Magliulo, Malcolm Doyle, Pete Bertoni and your little old winemaker, ME!

The Unfortunate-of-the-Month was Stanley Walsh whose membership card number was called for that giant bait box award, but Stan was conspicuous by his absence.

Speaking of attendance awards, the prizes Friday night will be luscious turkeys for your Thanksgiving dinner.

DISA AND DATA: Captain Clyde Hickey of Schenley Sportsman's Club sends word that the Schenley Salmon Award program brought in 70 new winners during the last week in October, the largest number for any week in the seven years of the awards program. Twenty of these winners were 40 to 50 pound fish, and two were over 50 pounds. This brought the total winners to date this year to 360, the largest number for any one year of the seven. Bob Strong remains top man for the year with his 56 pound, 2 ounce winner taken Sept. 29.

Word comes from Bill Picher, chairman of Audubon Canyon Ranch, that his organization has been successful in meeting the down payment of $90,000 for Canyon Ranch on schedule. Title now passes to the Marin and the Golden Gate Audubon Societies, and they are now in a position to start developing the ranch has a center for nature and conservation education. The MRGC pledge of $800 to this project will now be paid since it was based upon meeting the down payment. Incidentally, an excellent sound and color movie of the project will be shown at the meeting Friday night by Dr. L. Martin Griffin, assistant chairman of Audubon Canyon Ranch.

The subject of the film will be "Audubon Canyon Ranch," 507 acres of rolling meadows, woodland and two canyons covered with redwood and Douglas fir.

Filmed in spectacular color and natural sound, the picture portrays a conservation and education project. Shown will be herons and egrets that nest on the ranch where more than 100 young are hatched and reared each year.

The film shows Bolinas Lagoon, a vital link in the Pacific Flyway, sanctuary for the thousands of migratory and wintering shore and water birds that use it for rest and for searching of food.

Women's Auxiliary Meets Nov. 27 To Nominate Officers

Nominations for officers of the Ladies Auxiliary Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held Nov. 27 at the clubhouse, it was announced today.

Regina Murray, auxiliary president, said she was expecting a large turnout for the meeting. Plans for the Christmas party will also be made. Chairman of the nominating committee is Anna Malacrida.

Estelle Peterson of the auxiliary reported Mildred Brog, one of the directors, will soon be returning from St. Mary's Hospital where she has been resting.

Marin Rod, Gun Club Conservation Meeting

The question of whether persons would like to have one of Marin's lakes designated for fly fishing will be taken up by the conservation committee of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Thursday, it was announced by Don Donaldson.

Members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, under the guidance of Jack Santos of the California Department of Fish and Game, recently seeded the watershed of Nicasio Lake to prevent erosion. The new growth will prevent siltation from the slopes during the rainy season and allow for normal growth of aquatic plants.

Dr. Gail Adams, president of the sportsmen's council of the Redwood Empire Assn., will give a report of the council's quarterly meeting at the Conservation committee's Thursday.

Donaldson also reported that special reports of the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission have recently been printed and are for sale by the Supt. of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D.C.

No Major Changes In Angling Law

The California Fish and Game Commission made its determinations on the 1963 angling regulations in San Francisco last Friday. The commission indicated that there will be no major changes in the current angling regulations next year.

At a public meeting on Dec. 7 in Los Angeles, the commission will hear recommendations for changes in these determinations and will formally adopt the 1963 regulations.

Chief proposals by the commission for adoption on Dec. 7 were a general summer trout season opening May 4 and running through Oct. 31; an increase in the halibut limit from two to five fish; and an adjustment in the salmon limit providing for a three fish limit of which two must be at least 22 inches in length and one salmon must be not less than 20 inches long.

Among other angling proposals the commission included in their determinations were:

Elimination of the 10-inch minimum length for black bass in certain San Diego waters. (Lower Otay, Barrett, Morena, El Capitan, San Vicente, Sutherland, and Hodges lakes);

FLY FISHING
Restriction to fly fishing only of the Silver Fork of the South Fork of the American River and Cable Creek, a tributary of the Silver Fork, with a three trout limit;

Restriction of a part of Crowley Lake, Mono County, to artificial fly fishing with barbless hooks from Sept. 15 through Oct. 31, with a five trout limit and fish to be at least 12 inches long;

Setting 10 trout limit in year around trout areas beginning May 4, and reducing limit to five on Nov. 1;

Elimination of the five trout limit on Morena Reservoir, San Diego County, and setting of a five trout limit on Wohlford Lake;

Lowering of the size limit on sturgeon from 50 to 40 inches; Raising of the sargo limit from 10 to 25 in the Salton Sea;

Setting of five trout limit in Puddingstone Reservoir in Los Angeles County;

And retention of Trinity Lake tributary closures.

In other business last Friday the Commission received a Department of Fish and Game report on the progress of the department's exotic game bird introduction program.

LOGGING DAMAGE
The commission also heard a report by Alex Calhoun, chief of the Department's Inland Fisheries branch, on logging damage to streams. This was followed by presentations from the logging industry on the same subject, following which the commission adopted a resolution favoring amendment of the Forest Practice Act to include stream and watershed protection as one of the Act's purposes.

And the commission approved a DFG request for permission to proceed in applying for lease of three parcels of wildlife lands along the Colorado River.

740 Deer Killed In Marin This Season
Department of Fish and Game this week reported 740 deer were killed in Marin County during the recently completed 1962 season.

This marked only a slight decrease over the 1961 deer kill of 749 in Marin.

Huge Bass Caught By East Bay Anglers; 52-Pounder Tops List

Excitement is contagious. Even hardened bait dealers become that way when they have exceptional news of fish brought in to be weighed at their places.

A case in kind is the Lucias of the Bayfair Bait and Tackle Shop in San Leandro. A while back I received a call from there reporting a large bass. It weighed 34 pounds. It was noted in the paper, remember?—So—Saturday evening Ed Lucia called with great gusto and told of a fish just brought into his place. It was taken by Frank Perez, of Union City, at Sacramento Point on a bullhead. The monster tipped the scales at 43 pounds 8 ounces. Do you wonder at the excitement? That's some fish, eh?

But wait, the climax is still to follow. Sunday, Ed Lucia called to tell in a slightly quavering voice of a fish his brother, Bob Lucia, caught at Sacramento Point on a bullhead. This fish topped all others: weighed 52 pounds, 6 ounces. I understand that when Bob finally hauled his dream fish over the side of the boat, he immediately decided he had had his fishing trip, pulled anchor and headed for home and the glory of displaying his catch.

No question now but what we can say, truthfully, the bass are running in the back country, come and get 'em!

NOW NOTE this, while Sacramento Point is the present hot spot, it is almost certain that the fish are slowly moving upstream. There should be good fishing for other lunkers up to the two main rivers from now on. Water is still a bit discolored which slows trolling, but bait fishing is and should continue very good.

I CALLED Louie Patrick of Three Mile Slough to get his opinion. I consider Louie one of the best informed of all the back country gentry. Louie's specialty is trolling (what swell fishing I have had with Louie Patrick), but he told me that in several areas, where he hopes to troll as soon as the water clears, the baitsters have been taking beaucoup bass, on sardines and on bullheads. Louie believes also that the schools of fish now showing up will gradually work their way toward the spawning grounds, and that we may expect some top flight fishing from now until Christmas and thereafter until March.

Where is Sacramento Point? The average map won't show it, but if you locate Collinsville on any map, note that directly opposite Collinsville the San Joaquin branches off from the Sacramento River. At the point of juncture—the extreme lower tip of Sherman Island—is Sacramento Point. Maybe there is still larger bass in that area right now.

It is noteworthy that the three lunkers, the 34, the 43 and the 52 pounders have been taken on bullheads. Better have a few along.

NOW, DON'T get the idea that all the bass have headed for the Delta. Fishing is fast and fancy on both sides of the San Pablo Bay, the Suisun Bay and up the Napa on bait, and the trolling in the Racon Strait, Richardson Bay and Red Rock is well worth the effort.

Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

College Will Co-Host Student Confab

A College of Marin liberal arts major will be president of the 34th annual California Junior College Student Government Assn. Asilomar Conference in Pacific Grove Thursday through Saturday, and his college will be co-host.

Training Offered

Training in radiological monitoring is being offered by American Legion San Anselmo Post 179, according to Col. Henry R. Sandborn (Ret.), squad leader in charge of the post's radiological trailer. Those interested should contact him to learn about the weekly meetings.

He is Marc Mezzetta, 20, former student body president. A Marin Catholic High School graduate, he plans to attend San Francisco State College on graduation from College of Marin. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Mezzetta of 10 Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

About 70 colleges belong to the association. Napa and Santa Rosa junior colleges will be co-hosts.

The executive committee of the associated students of College of Marin this week named five delegates: Ron Cox, 20, of San Anselmo, student body president; Davis Campbell, 21, of Inverness, inter-club council president; Germaine Briggs, 18, of Mill Valley, inter-club council representative; Nels Larsen, 19, of San Anselmo, freshmen men's representative and Tom Rigby, 21, of Mill Valley, executive council parliamentarian. Accompanying the students

San Rafael Bus Runs Top Anticipation

"Traffic slightly more than anticipated" was today's report on the new San Rafael bus service by Robert L. Peterson of Marin Transit Authority.

Eight and one-half days of operation up to 1 p.m. Saturday gave a patron count of 3,247, said Peterson.

He said there hasn't been a complaint or a breakdown and that all schedules have been held strictly.

Only a 60-day trial was allowed by the City of San Rafael so far as operation on its congested Fourth Street was concerned, but this seems up to now to have been going satisfactorily to everybody, Peterson averred. He mentioned several city officials as originally concerned, but now having no objections so far as he knew.

Although Marin County supervisors gave permission to make token trips to the new Civic Center in advance of occupation, the bus firm decided to wait.

"We're ready to go just as soon as the first offices are occupied," said Peterson when told that the plan is for gradual move-in over a period of perhaps a month, starting soon after the architect's acceptance of the administration building.

Aside from the Civic Center hold-up all routes are operating as planned, according to Peterson, with no changes in prospect.

About 200 calls a day are being made asking for schedules although these are available from bus drivers and have been advertised, said Peterson.

"We want people to know our schedules and just phone us at 453-3022 if there's anything you need to learn," he advised.

A 20-cent student rate is already in effect. Around Feb. 1, Peterson said, he expects a plan to go into effect whereby merchants would give a bus token for the trip home as premium on purchases.

Supervisors Have Power To Speed Redistricting

Redistricting of Marin County can be effected within 30 days by action of county supervisors or less rapidly through initiative action of the voters, County Counsel E. Warren McGuire told the supervisors today.

His investigation had been asked as follow-up to the recent report of the Supervisorial Redistricting Committee of Marin County headed by Bert W. Broemmel as chairman.

The Broemmel report made clear that advice was all the committee could contribute, and no state law makes redistricting mandatory.

McGuire's opinion was mainly concerned with offering safeguards to Marin County redistricting if somebody wants to go ahead. Analysis of his findings as against the recommendations of the Broemmel committee indicate that the committee's finding meet legal requirements in case redistricting is done.

Broemmel's committee said Marin has not been redistricted since 1884, that there is now lack of equality (40.2 per cent of the voters electing three members). It put forward a plan whereby no fewer than 51.1 per cent would elect the majority.

This last squared with a McGuire finding that "a majority of the population should elect a majority of the representation."

Motel's Plan For Parking To Be Aired

Plans by Karp Development Co. for increased parking at its Madera Village motel beside Highway 101 in Corte Madera will be reviewed by the Corte Madera Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

The commission will consider amending the zoning ordinance to permit banners across public streets "by specialized groups." This arises from an opinion by city councilmen that volunteer firemen should be permitted to advertise their annual ball with a banner across Tamalpais Drive.

The two-page agenda also includes a revised parking plan submitted by developer Fred R. Sanford for the Bank of America branch to be built between Tamalpais and Meadow Sweet Drives.

We combined ink and ideas to bring you a more readable newspaper

This new ink is news . . . and the I-J's running it

The red ink you see is the start of a new advance in color printing in newspapers.

It's a new kind of color ink. And the Independent-Journal is the first U.S. newspaper to run it without special doodads or modifications to the press.

Still under research by the California Ink Company, this water base colored ink promises benefits to both readers and advertisers.

It prints clearer, brighter color. It lessens "show through" on the opposite page. And finally, it reduces what we call "rub off," or smudging.

We'll still have problems perfecting the ink. But the point is that here at the Independent-Journal, working with scientists, we're trying for a new breakthrough in color printing.

Just another example of how the I-J is putting new ideas into print to bring you a better newspaper.

Radio Japan Commentator Finds U.S. Visit Helpful To English Programs

By BARBARA HOSMER

Programming, script writing and announcing radio programs for countries "in all parts of the world where people speak English" is the concern of a young Japanese woman who visited Marin briefly last weekend on her return to Tokyo.

She is Toshi Morikawa, who for over three years has been a member of the English Announcers Section of the European and American Division of Radio Japan, preparing programs in English as a part of the NHK Japanese network to be beamed from Tokyo throughout Japan as well as to Asian and Arab countries and other parts of the globe.

As background for her radio programs, which are often on the cultural and educational side, she will take home to Tokyo memories of Greenwich Village with its little playhouses, Boston, the "last glory of Autumn in the woods" near Andover, Mass., Harlem which she found "didn't look so bad," the Broadway theater world, a new York Philharmonic concert, U. N. General Assembly sessions, and a return trip to St. Louis and San Francisco.

AND THROUGHOUT this, her third U. S. tour, Toshi visited radio stations ranging from a tour of NBC in New York to the short wave broadcasts and special shortwave radio and television booths at the United Nations, to Bay Area radio stations including a brief visit to Marin's KTIM.

Though Toshi came to the United States to attend a Christian Science Assn. conference in St. Louis and also made rapid trips to New York and Boston, her Marin visit was purely social. She was greeted in San Francisco by her youngest sister, Keiko, who is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Edward Campion in San Rafael. Mrs. Campion had been a schoolmate of the girls' mother, so Toshi also was their guest during her time here.

TOSHI HAS been to America twice before, spending four years studying sociology and anthropology—a year at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo., and three years of graduate work at Washington University in St. Louis, where she wrote her thesis on the social influence of industry on Japan and England.

Both her choice of the latter country and her excellent command of English she explained quickly. "I lived in England for four years when my father was in the shipping business," Keiko, on the other hand, is on her first trip to the United States and has less facility with the tongue.

"English is so hard!" she says through a wide grin.

Toshi's English earned her the chance to be a translator for two international conferences when she returned to Japan in 1958 after completing graduate studies.

"DURING A seminar I met someone who said, 'How would you like to work for Radio Japan?' and I wanted to," she said. And now, for over three years, she has commuted daily for one hour and 10 minutes each way from her parents' home in the outskirts of Tokyo to the downtown headquarters of Radio Japan arriving at 10 a.m. and supposedly leaving at 6.

"But so often we are there much later," she said. During that time she pursues work that she "hopes will further understanding between countries, help people to know true Japan and also to have programs that are pleasant and interesting."

"The programs are usually 15 minutes—if you go too long people lose interest," she explained.

Some of the segments she has done are the summer life of the Japanese student, foreigners studying Japanese, international postal week, a UNESCO program for Asian people which also included a month-long training course, and she has five weekly programs of music, each different.

ONE IS classical Japanese music, half of which she devotes to commentary explaining the traditional instruments. For this she has a scholar write the material in Japanese. Then it is translated by another who is well schooled on the subject. From this she writes her program script, which is recorded for broadcast at different times to various countries.

Another program is Melodies of Asia. For this radio stations from throughout Asia send in tapes of their live music for use each week.

Other times she has the music arranged for orchestral broadcasts.

A third program is jazz done by Japanese musicians, which she says is not quite like American jazz. "The expression of life is so different." She also has a program of Japanese popular music and one of Japanese vocal music, all taped for as many as 24 transmissions.

SHE HAS also had a women's program called "Home Corner" and children's programs. On her trip she found her Hawaiian stopover valuable for commentary on programs involving that state, with its great Japanese population.

Background was also her excuse for attending Broadway musicals, she said with a laugh, adding that the Japanese were so interested since West Side Story was a great hit in Japan. She saw three musicals in four days.

"There is a great interest among Japanese singers to become 'musical' artists," Toshi said, and through her attendance at American musicals she'll be able to help the Japanese understand them better in her programs.

BOTH TOSHI and Keiko said that Americans seem all so young—even the older women go golfing—and they seemed to want to be learning all the time. Keiko said that there is much wealth in America, but the people work very hard here.

Both waxed enthusiastic about American food.

"It's all wonderful!" said Keiko, who managed to indicate she's gained an American pound or two.

"IT'S A LITTLE different than at Radio Japan," Toshi Morikawa, left, said when she and her sister Keiko took a quick look at KTIM where Bill Thompson shows Toshi a script. She programs, does scripts and commentary for Radio Japan's English programs which are broadcast to countries throughout the world where English is spoken.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Elliot W. Seymours Go South To Celebrate Anniversary

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The Elliott W. Seymours are celebrating their twentieth wedding anniversary in the Southland. Virginia and Elliot left Saturday to spend a couple of days with Mrs. Frances Rieff of Westwood, who was Virginia's attendant at the wedding of 20 years ago in Los Angeles. For their anniversary the Seymours will be in Santa Barbara and then they'll go to Laguna Beach and Carmel. They'll return just in time to prepare for the Thanksgiving Day feast at their Belvedere home.

While they're away, the Seymours' home is occupied by Virginia's brother, James F. Kroeber, and his wife, Lois, whose home is in San Francisco's Saint Francis Wood. Lois is a talented artist. Her oil paintings were recently shown in Gump's Gallery, San Francisco.

DR. AND MRS. Ilion T. Jones of Novato (he is a retired professor of practical theology of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo) recently visited in Iowa, Ohio and Texas. Doctor and Mrs. Jones traveled by train. They went first to Iowa City, where Doctor Jones preached the Sunday sermon from his old pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church. He and his wife visited many friends during a long weekend, then went to Ohio to see their daughter, Mrs. C. C. Winter, who lives in Worthington, for two weeks. Doctor and Mrs. Jones went to Dallas, Texas, for a week and visited her brother, Robert J. Prince, and Doctor Jones' sister, Mrs. C. D. Wilkinson.

MR. AND MRS. Phillip Mann have returned to their home in Sleepy Hollow after three weeks in the Hawaiian Islands. They flew to Honolulu and made their headquarters at Reef Towers.

They visited former Marin-fites, Mr. and Mrs. Storrs Smith and Mrs. Flora Campbell and went from Oahu to the islands of Hawaii, Kauai and Maui.

MRS. ROBERT L. SCHULTZ of Mill Valley spent the homecoming weekend at Stanford University. She is president of the Mothers' Club of her son, Kenneth's fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi and assisted with the weekend events. Mrs.

Schultz also attended the annual chrysanthemum tea given by the Mothers' Club for all Stanford students.

MRS. JOHN MOORE, who recently sold her Belvedere home to James M. Smiths, is on a cruise of the South Pacific. She will stop at ports in Hawaii, Tahiti, Fiji, New Zealand and Australia. The Smiths, former San Francisco residents, have three daughters, Michelle, Susan and Andrea. The eldest is three years old.

MRS. ALVIN P. BAUKOL, president of the Outdoor Art Club of Mill Valley, will entertain members of her board at a luncheon at her home tomorrow.

Mrs. Baukol's guests will be Mesdames Edward Johnson, William Searles, Kenyon Spalding, Robert Cook, Ralph Martindale, E. M. Tobin, M. A. Leonis, John Giuliani, Blythe Adams, John Nahapiet, Russell Mills, Gerhart Becker, A. B. Goddard, R. L. Iglehart, Robert Wickersham, Robert Graver, Ellis Bell and Elvira Becker.

PRINCE CHARLES WILL MARK 14TH BIRTHDAY AT SCHOOL

LONDON, (UPI)—The heir to the throne of England will be 14 years old tomorrow and he could well begin the day helping put out the garbage at Gordonstoun, his school in Scotland.

Giving a hand with the "Dustbins" is something Gordonstoun boys are called upon to do. It is not a punishment, just part of the routine.

BUT PRINCE CHARLES, whose attendance at Gordonstoun—which his father Prince Philip attended—broke a royal tradition, also will have a party of sorts with school chums. A birthday cake will be sent him from Buckingham Palace and there will be greetings from Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, possibly a telephone call, too.

Charles, the first heir to the throne to attend a boarding school, entered Gordonstoun last May amid general huzzas from the British press. Editorial writers thought the school's spartan regime, including morning cold showers and emphasis on gymnastics, would be good for the prince-ling.

ACCORDING to all accounts Charles has benefitted from Gordonstoun's no-nonsense living. He appears sturdier and has grown physically. And, what his family must think a boon, he now cuts his thick brown hair shorter.

He has improved his music, taken up pottery in his spare time and excelled in sailing practices. Regardless of his position, the prince is making his own name.

Boys first wear navy blue at the school and must prove themselves before they don the school uniform of grey shorts and sweater. Charles has earned his "Grey's."

THE PRINCE is a composite of his mother's tastes and his father's ambitions. He likes, as the queen does, music, quiet outdoor walks, movies and the theatre.

Like his father, Charles loves the sea and has determined on a naval career before he takes up his royal duties.

The school's first full personal report on the Prince will be sent the Queen and Philip in a few weeks. It is expected to say Charles is doing all right.

Homemaker's Time Can Be Saved With Shortcut Methods

By DR. JUNE BRICKER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The typical American homemaker today is looking for short cuts because she feels she is running out of time.

Whether a woman works outside the home or not, our recent survey shows that time is her most precious commodity. She values it more highly as a resource than money or energy.

So what does the home economics profession have to offer that will help this woman stretch time?

This week in Washington, the American Home Economics Assn., in a program at the national housing center, which also will be presented later in cities throughout the country, will try to tell women how they can cut these time corners without really trying.

SOME OF THE suggestions:

Do two things at once—this is a good way to double the value of your time, though it may require a change in your work habits. For instance, many women today put their wash in a laundromat while they do the shopping next door at the supermarket. And so, why not set tomorrow's breakfast table with the clean dishes that follow tonight's kitchen cleanup? Or install an ironing board near or in the kitchen so that you can keep up with the ironing while a meal is cooking?

Cook once, eat twice—why not cook two meals at the same time? Half of the meal goes on the table tonight and the other half goes into the freezer for another day. Home economists know that it takes little more time and energy to prepare a double quantity than to cook half as much. For reheating, one short-cut method is to line the pan with metal foil, fold up the unused half of the food for freezing, then put back in the same pan to thaw out and heat at a later date.

ELIMINATE ESSENTIALS—

But this is a matter of personal taste. Basically, it boils down to this: You in your own home might want to take the short-cut and use paper place mats, your neighbor may feel that real linen on the table is absolutely essential.

If you really want to cut corners, modern products, many developed through home economics research, make it possible to eliminate such time-consuming duties as:

Drying dishes—The new detergents will do that for you.

Most ironing—The combination of the new "wash and wear" textiles and the tumble action of the automatic dryers give you clothes and linens that can be used just as they come from the dryer.

Most mending—Nylon reinforcement of socks, for instance, has eliminated much of the old task of darning socks.

AND NOW FOR bed-making, sheets with fitted corners have cut down considerably on the motions needed to make an average bed.

Just as important, be sure and analyze your own home so that you know where the work is coming from. Why does the dirt blow in? A well seeded lawn and a sidewalk can cut down dust that may be seeping in through your windows and doors. Different kinds of blankets may reduce the amount of lint that is settling on your floors and furniture. Proper ventilation in the kitchen may help eliminate grease on walls and floors. The right kinds of wall-to-wall carpeting and floor covers will sharply cut down on floor care.

Pledge Ceremony Set

Alpha Tau Chapter of Kappa Phi Sigma will hold a pledge ceremony for new rushees tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Harold Dunham, 1379 Joyce Street, Novato, at 8 p.m. New pledges are Mesdames James F. McConnell, George Schilling, George Harrison and Thomas Dent.

Reception Fetes Mrs. Hammond

Mrs. Margaret Hammond, mother of Mrs. Daniel K. Beswick of Mill Valley, was the guest of honor at a surprise champagne reception held at the Beswick's home yesterday. The hostess was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Daniel Beswick Jr. of San Francisco.

Forty of Mrs. Hammond's friends and relatives were on hand to help her celebrate her 75th birthday. Among her friends from Marin County were Mr. and Mrs. William Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fay of San Rafael, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huber and the Rev. John J. O'Brien of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Hammond, widow of Harry Hammond, former state printer and well known country weekly newspaperman from Byron in Contra Costa County, has three grandchildren: Daniel Beswick Jr. of San Francisco, Dave Beswick of Mill Valley and Mrs. Paul Dempsey of Seattle. She has two great grandchildren: Katy Jo and Maureen Dempsey of Seattle.

Mrs. Hammond makes her home with the Beswicks in Mill Valley.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for classroom equipment for the eighth grade at Our Lady of Loretto School.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

Kitchen Know-How Helps To Cook Meals Smoothly

A good meat to buy when your purse is thin is lamb shanks. Margaret Spader, home service consultant, suggests browning them on all sides over a medium heat. While they are browning, combine 1½ cups of water with a package of dehydrated onion soup and pour the mixture over the browned lamb shanks. Cover and simmer for 2½ hours, or until tender. Remove the shanks from the pan, thicken the gravy with a little flour and water, and pour it over the meat. Serve with baked potatoes, fresh spinach and hard rolls. Serves four.

Meat should not be sealed tightly when it is refrigerated. It is best to unwrap cut meats so the cut surface will be dry and juices will stay inside. Meats that are stored in the freezing compartment, however, should be wrapped and sealed tightly.

Heirloom recipes frequently call for "trying out" fat. Mar-

View Show To Salute Monaco

Prince Rainier of Monaco has sent a special personal greeting to Mrs. John Bellamy Jr. for Thursday's "Fashions with a Viewpoint" luncheon at the Ondine in Sausalito, which will salute Monaco's National Day by proclaiming a "Winter Holiday."

Welcomed as the special guest-of-honor upon commissioning of Prince Rainier will be Michel Laurent, San Francisco's Monacan native and goodwill ambassador, who will bring special gifts from the prince and princess.

Schussing into the "Winter Holiday" will be fashionable ski imports from Switzerland, France, Germany, Austria and Italy, and after-ski originals created by Jacqueline de Bray and seen for the first time, modeled by Mrs. William Donohoe, Mrs. Eric Popovich and Mrs. Hal Wagner.

"Fashions with a Viewpoint" begins at 12:30 p.m. with greetings from Prince Rainier, followed by the promenade of winter fashion.

Italian Dinner Tonight For Park School P-TA

Park School Parent-Teacher Assn. of Mill Valley will sponsor an Italian dinner tonight featuring authentic Italian antipasto from an old family recipe.

Dinner music will be provided by strolling accordionists and Dick Ford and his daughter Deneen, will entertain.

The entrance to the Park School auditorium will be flanked by marble columns, alternated with trees and an Italian house and garden setting.

Redwood Dessert-Fashion Show Planned On Saturday

Autumn foliage will set the scene on Saturday, the annual dessert-fashion show to be given by the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Assn., with proceeds used to honor California Scholarship Life members and the Honor Society at the school.

The Saturday party will begin at 1 p.m. in the school gymnasium with the show directed by Mrs. Walter Zweig. Models have been chosen to represent all four classes at Redwood. They are Jodi Covington, Pat Murray, Kate Royer, Stephanie Rice, Sue MacLise, Suzie Harmon, Janet Riggsbee, Sandy Kaplan, Georgine Lemme, Pam Driver, Carlene Atterbury, Carol Kokjer, Pam Cooper, Pat Hicox, Carol Weinhold, Belinda Sifford, and Laurie Schwartz.

Before the fashion show, stars from the Redwood cast of "South Pacific" will entertain. They are Linda McClure, accompanied by Sherie Gilmore, and Jim McClure, accompanied by Jim Trumbo.

The fashion show committee, with Mrs. Zweig, chairman, has been working to make this an outstanding afternoon. Mrs. Zweig has been assisted by Mesdames Howard Burns, Marding McPhun, Sam Mercer, Clarence Amonette, Jane Pike, Hugh Carruthers, Malvern Dorinson, Harvey Hand, Thomas Gilboy, Milton Gabbs, and Willard Hinkley.

The Sonoma-Marin Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold an all-day meeting on Nov. 19 at Bethlehem Lutheran Social Hall, Tupper and Hendley, Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Alan G. Stiles will preside for the meeting to begin at 10 a.m.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Nellie Miller, national recording secretary.

Luncheon will be served.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Once a baby turns toddler, a mother may feel that her newly independent gadabout needs less attention than a "stay-put" baby. Actually the reverse is usually true. A toddler needs extra affection to offset increased frustration or failures...extra encouragement in the development of skills...extra protection from household hazards.

Teaching tactics. Your role as a teacher now becomes very important. As you train your toddler to self-help, your success will be greater if you teach only one thing at a time and make sure that the goal is within your child's capabilities. Praise for achievement will inspire your tyke to mightier efforts.

Appetite-brighteners for eager-beavers. Offer plentiful variety. Serve foods with appealing colors and flavors that sing. Gerber Junior Foods fill the bill beautifully. There are over 40 varieties, all processed by experts with special Hygiene hints. If you make hand-washing before meals a regular part of your toddler's self-training schedule, he'll come to accept this as part of the mealtime procedure. When he's able to do it himself, he'll like a small towel he can call his own. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Sportswear Shows Its Free-Line

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Sportswear returned to its free line, All-American look in early spring showings today by California Fashion Creators.

About 80 fashion editors from throughout the United States and Canada viewed the 12th annual national press week showings at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Sports attire was the opening theme of the five-day fashion show which is to progress to the most elaborate evening wear by week's end.

Casual lines avoiding the skin-tight effect dominated all presentations.

"THERE IS NO basic change, but good colors and the natural figure line have returned," said Eddy George, a native California designer.

The shift dress, presented in everything from silk to linen, dominated streetwear casuals. There was many modifications — the shirtwaist, middy, slim and two-piece shifts.

George deviated from the shell blouse or jacket with a refreshing deep V-neck accompanied by a tie-scarf of contrasting color. The scarf added a color splash whether it followed the V-line or adjusted to a higher neckline.

Yellow, soft green, a wide range of blues, creams and some plaids were most common.

Bonnie Lee O'Dell Weds R. W. Tyler

In a recent ceremony in Conover Chapel of the Golden Gate Seminary in Strawberry, Bonnie Lee O'Dell of San Rafael became the bride of Richard Warren Tyler of Las Vegas. Dr. J. Winston Pierce officiated for the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Bethel Confers Honorary Degrees

Eleven members of Bethel 48, International Order of Job's Daughters in San Rafael were made honorary members in a recent ceremony with Carolyn Weiss, honored queen, presiding.

Receiving the majority degree were Marlene Asbell, Kay Donovan, Vicki Dufton, Barbara Shadle Edwards, Patricia Newton Ingram, Sherri Nordmann Oakley, Sharon Peebles, Deanne Ruoff, Joan Wilson Tilton, Patricia Weeks and Dorothy Wilson.

Also discussed at the meeting was the Bake Sale to be held on Saturday at the Montecito Shopping Center.

Dads-Daughters Dinner

A Phi Sigma Sigma's Dad-Daughter Dinner will be given at Redwood High School's home economics room tomorrow from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Entertainment will be songs by Ann Hughes, a Redwood sophomore.

Col. L. R. Schinazi Will Address DAR

"National Defense in Capital Letters" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Col. Leon Richard Schinazi (Retired), at the Nov. 19 meeting of El Mariño Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert Pratt in San Rafael.

Colonel Schinazi began his Army career by serving in the Vera Cruz Expedition, then in Panama and the Philippines. After World War I he resigned his commission and went into the steamship business and later he entered the import-export business in China. During these years he was Commander of the Shanghai Post and very active in American Legion affairs.

At the outbreak of World War II, being a Reserve Officer he went into the Army again, first serving in Washington, D.C. in the Adjutant General's office from where he was sent to Brazil. In the Water Division of the Transportation Corps he first served in Africa and then returned to the port of New York for a time after which he returned to the Philippines as executive officer of the Port of Manila. Later he was Port Commander of Sabu and he finally served in the same capacity in Shanghai.

At the end of the war he resigned his commission again and returned to business in China until the Communists moved in, after which he re-entered the service at the outbreak of the Korean War. He went to Korea as transportation officer of the United Nations Command. When he returned to the United States he was deputy for the Director of Operations at Fort Mason.

Colonel Schinazi retired in 1954, and lives in Greenbrae. He and his wife enjoy working in the Chinese rock garden on their hillside terrace. Their home is filled with paintings created by the colonel over the years, and both are enthusiastic bridge players and "active" retired.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order...since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" ... delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 600 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county... planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but by tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phones ring with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechanical superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissues of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty printing cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Numerous Reports Indicate Frequent Small Intakes Of Food Best For You

Primitive man ate when he could. It was feast or famine, depending upon the availability of food and many inhabitants of the under-developed parts of the world follow the same pattern.

Civilized man accustomed himself to scheduled meals as a result of habit, custom, and working conditions. Our present plan of eating breakfast, lunch, and dinner will continue so long as food is available or until good reasons for changing are uncovered by nutritionists.

NUMEROUS REPORTS indicate that frequent small intakes of food (munching) are less likely to cause obesity than are one or two large meals. Similar observations have been noted concerning the prevention of coronary heart disease. Thus we might change our dietary habits if eating several times a day, and in smaller amounts, proves to have definite health advantages.

Regular meal times are natural because it takes three or four hours for the stomach to feel the pangs of hunger. This is a man-made schedule and no one should feel different or abnormal because he prefers to omit lunch or eat a cereal for breakfast or drink only a glass of milk.

THE CONSUMPTION of a large dinner at night, after skipping on breakfast and lunch, has some objections. This single meal is likely to be high in calories and fat. The by-products of the latter are likely to settle in the walls of the arteries when eating is not followed by physical activity. In this respect, we might profit from the farmer who eats his big meal at noon and leaves the table to return to the field.

A laborer needs more calories than the sedentary worker. The lumberjack in the far north uses more energy to combat the cold. A certain food industry has supported research projects that tend to show better grades are obtained by students who eat a good breakfast. The assumption is that the brain functions better after receiving nourishment. On the other hand, many students have all they can do to stay awake after eating a hearty lunch, indicating that too much food as well as too little dulls the mind.

CAN'T REASON WITH SCHIZOS

A. B. writes: Is long term psychoanalysis of any value in schizophrenia?

REPLY

A definite answer to this question cannot be given because the symptoms of schizophrenia are so variable. In the severe forms of this mental disorder, the individual is not in contact with this world and I cannot see how a discussion in the office will bring out any relevant facts.

GASPING IN THE RAIN

L. C. writes: Why do I lose my breath when I walk in the rain?

REPLY

The only difference when it is raining is the added humidity unless you walk too fast or you become overheated by wearing a heavy raincoat and rubbers.

NORMAL REACTION

F. P. writes: What is wrong with a person who needs several minutes to see clearly after coming into a dim room from the outside?

REPLY

Nothing. Some persons accommodate to the dark (or light) more quickly than others.

A TRACE OF MINERAL

W. M. writes: I am taking a vitamin product that contains copper. What good does the body get from copper?

REPLY

Traces of copper are needed for blood formation.

Today's Health Hint—Keep traffic lanes in the home clear of toys and other objects.

How's Business? Picture Bright

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Rising retail sales and business profits and renewed promises of tax cuts brighten the business prospects today.

There's also the report of a slight increase in orders of manufactured goods and materials. And business firms appear to be beefing up their intentions of spending more money next year for more machinery and for some new plants.

The stock market even took on a cheerful tone as November got going.

The optimists caution that these things don't add up to a new boom coming. But they're gleeful that the early summer fears of a recession by fall are proving groundless. And even the pessimists now are saying that any letdown after the first of the year should be mild—a pause or breather rather than the start of a sharp downturn.

Much of this is based on the expectation that the new Congress will pass quickly a tax cut bill. For individuals this would mean more purchasing power. For corporations it would mean more net profits available either for dividends or for expanding plants or operations.

The record pace in auto sales in October boosted total retail sales to a new high for any month. New models pushed auto sales 8 per cent higher than in September. This sent total retail volume to almost 20.1 billion dollars, in itself an 8 per cent increase over the year-before figure.

At the same time, a flood of corporate earnings reports gladdened many more stockholders than it saddened. While some companies slumped, the majority showed encouraging gains for both the three months and nine months periods ending Sept. 30.

The average gain in net income after taxes in the July-September quarter over the previous three months was around 9 per cent. This came as a relief to many stockholders who had watched the squeeze on profits earlier in the year with foreboding. Most probably still hold that the gain wasn't large enough for a really healthy economy. But a number of increased dividends by large corporations in recent days has helped offset some cuts, especially among the steels.

And the outlook for profits in the current final quarter of 1962 is pretty good. Many feel that 1962 is sure to set a record total of corporate earnings. Management holds that considering increased production and sales, the profits total still will fall well short of what it should be. Rising retail volume is viewed as indicating most consumers are still in a spending mood. And added to this, the government is expected to pour more dollars into the economy in coming months. That leaves the question of whether business itself will also raise its spending ante.

It put out about 37 billion dollars for plants and improvements this year. The general expectation is that it will spend moderately more next year, partly to take advantage of new tax credits.

So the prospects as the midpoint of the final quarter nears are far more cheerful than they were in early summer. There are plenty of problems ahead, but fewer bogeymen.

Rats Are Used To Test Polluted Atmosphere

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Since the aromatic hydrocarbons are present in polluted atmospheres and since they are proved cancer-causers, many scientists have marveled that the cancer rate among human beings remains relatively light. Experiments with one of these chemical compounds and two strains of rats may cause these scientists to marvel less. You have to keep in mind that people come in strains, too—many, many strains. But generally it is impossible to distinguish one strain from another.

In laboratory rats it is easy. One definite strain of them is called Sprague-Daw-ley and another is called Long-Evans. Four scientists used only the females of these strains and the hydrocarbon, 7,12-dimethylbenz (A) anthracene which for convenience is called DMBA.

The scientists put a single dose of DMBA into the rats of both strains. Invariably mammary cancer appeared in the Sprague-Dawleys within a few weeks, cancers which were multiple in each animal. But in the Long-Evans rats mammary cancer appeared in only a few.

And in those few it took longer for the cancers to appear. When they appeared they didn't progress as aggressively.

The fact was that some cancers regressed on their own. This suggested the S-D strain was more susceptible naturally to mammary cancer than the L-E.

But this was true only in small part. The rate for spontaneous mammary cancer among the colony of S-D rats was a mere 1 to 2 per cent although for the colony of L-E rats it was zero. This meant the S-D females were naturally more susceptible to the cancer-causing potential of DMBA than the L-E.

The scientists wanted to know why they should be and found marked constitutional differences in the system of endocrine glands of the two strains. These seemed to originate from the chemical activity of the pituitary gland, the "boss" gland of the system.

The endocrine glands secrete hormones which regulate most phases of body chemistry, particularly those relating to reproduction. The constitutional differences resulted in differing patterns of hormone secretions and this seemed to make the difference between susceptibility and resistance to an aromatic hydrocarbon as a cancer-causing agent.

In short, the Long-Evans strain inherited a resistance to DMBA through the pattern of hormones secreted by the glands. The scientists tested it and proved it by cross-breeding S-D and L-E. As the S-D components increased in the hybrids, so did DMBA susceptibility.

They also wanted to know if the inherited resistance could be overcome. They found it could be, by repeatedly injecting DMBA into the veins of L-E. By that means they raised this strain's cancer induction rate to 94 per cent.

The scientists were Katherine L. Sydnor, Otfried Butenandt, F. P. Brillantes and Charles Huggins of the Ben May Laboratory for cancer research of the University of Chicago. They reported to the National Cancer Institute.

Auto Stolen In Marinwood

A 1955 two-door sedan disappeared from the driveway of a home in Marinwood, the owner reported to the sheriff at 5 a.m. yesterday.

Gordon Linstrom of 571 Miller Creek Road told sheriff's deputies he may have left the keys in the car. The vehicle is a Ford, medium blue in color.

In Mill Valley, newspaperman Randall Gould of 299 Hillside Avenue got up this morning to go to work and found his 1961 sports car gone from the garage. A few minutes later, Mill Valley police found the car abandoned about two-tenths of a mile away. The thieves had apparently pushed the car down the road but were unable to start it.

Narcotics Arrests Drop 5 Per Cent

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A 5.5 per cent drop in narcotics arrests in California from 1960 to 1961 was reported today by Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

There were 19,243 arrests in 1960 and 18,190 in 1961. His report concerns numbers of arrests only, and does not relate them to the size of the population. If population growth is considered, the decrease in narcotics arrests was more like 10 per cent.

Mosk said 83 per cent of the 1961 arrests were in Southern California, 69 per cent in Los Angeles County alone.

There were 11,418 arrests in Los Angeles, 1,165 in San Diego, 1,074 in San Francisco and 659 in Alameda County. Of adult offenders, almost half were under 26 years old, over two thirds were under 31, and only 9 per cent were over 40.

The report said 10,941 individual Californians were reported as users of heroin-type narcotics during the 30 months ended Dec. 31, 1961.

"With inclusion of two or three more years of experience the figure may approach the 20,000 given as the extreme value in previous estimates," the report said.

During 1961 there were 6,847 adults convicted of some narcotics offense. Of those, 1,150 were imprisoned, 201 were sent to Youth Authority institutions, 2,592 went to county jails, 1,585 got probation with jail, 1,110 got straight probation, and 209 were only fined.

There were 1,265 persons under 18 arrested—999 boys and 266 girls. This is a decrease of about 400 from the previous year, but the report warns that one should not conclude that the juvenile narcotics problem is diminishing.

"It appears," the report says, "that juveniles, as well as adults, have learned they can get much the same kick from dangerous drug usage without nearly as much risk."

The report showed juvenile marijuana arrests dropped from 677 in 1960 to 269 in 1961, but dangerous drug arrests rose from 503 to 694.

Among adults arrested for state narcotics law violations in 1961, 83.8 per cent were men and 16.2 per cent women. Of the total, 45.6 per cent were white, 27.3 per cent were white or Mexican descent, and 25.5 per cent were Negro.

Among juveniles arrested 37 per cent were white, 39 per cent Mexican and 22 per cent Negro.

Here's Something To Crow About

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A crowd brought two friends together for the first time in 16 years.

Joe the Crow, owned by Dennis Aaron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Aaron, disappeared on a Monday. On Wednesday, Mrs. Vera Harvey saw a newspaper story of Joe's disappearance and recognized the bird as one her two teen-age sons had found.

She also recognized the Aarons' name as that of some people she had known for many years but hadn't seen for 16 years. She drove to the Aaron home to renew acquaintances and Joe the Crow was returned to his owner.

'Code Of The Hills' Lands Pair In Jail

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A federal judge sent two men to jail for adhering to "the code of the hills."

The two, both identified as east Tennessee moonshiners, refused to tell where moonshiners or moonshine stills might be found—on grounds "the code of the hills" forbade them to do so.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles Neese said his court didn't recognize that code, and sent the pair to jail for contempt.

Film At Church

A full-length color film entitled "Jerusalem," narrated by evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown at 7:30 tonight at Assembly of God Church in San Rafael.

Construction On Kentfield Agenda

Construction in the Kentfield School District will head the agenda of the district board when it meets at 7:45 p.m. today in the Greenbrae School multi-use room.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon will report on a district survey of housing and pupil population and discuss future building. This will be followed by presentation of architect's plans for the seventh expansion of Adeline E. Kent School.

Other items in the four-page agenda include discussion of recreation and whether to join the program of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission.

Sausalito Night Planned Dec. 3

The third annual Sausalito Foundation Night will be held Dec. 3 at the Alta Mira Hotel, Kelso Norman, president of the Sausalito foundation said today. Proceeds will go to the foundation's special library fund, to be used toward establishing a new Sausalito library.

Tickets will include cocktails, dinner, dancing and entertainment, the cocktail hour starting at 7 p.m. Reservations for the 200 available accommodations may be made through Mrs. Donald J. Duncan Jr. of 66 Prospect Avenue, according to Mrs. Alice T. Williams, in charge of arrangements.

MV Planners To Study Rezoning Of Ridge

Mill Valley planning commissioners will hold two public hearings at a meeting to start at 8 p.m. today, one on proposed rezoning of the North Ridge and the other on proposed hiking and riding trails on the same ridge.

Also on the agenda is a proposal that the Lytton Square area have special apartment zoning.

Russ Secret Police Accused Of WW II Slaying Of 15,000 Poles

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—An American professor who was once a member of the Polish underground has accused the Soviet secret police of slaying 15,000 Polish soldiers in a mass execution in Katyn Forest early in World War II.

J. K. Zawodny, associate professor of political science at the University of Pennsylvania, charges in a new book that President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill suppressed the story of the massacre to keep the Russians as allies.

Zawodny's book, "Death in Old Bell Given To New School

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—A bell cast in 1773 may be used to summon children in the 2.5-million-dollar Plymouth-Carver Regional High School—which is still in the planning stage. The bell, 15 inches high and 23 inches across the base, was cast for a pre-Revolutionary War school, later used in a fire house.

The Pilgrim Society has presented it to the regional school committee, which has not yet decided whether to use it. The school is scheduled to open in September 1963.

Reed Trustees Due Site-Needs Report

Reed Union School District trustees will hear reports on building and site needs from both the recently appointed citizens committee and the superintendent at tonight's meeting at 8 o'clock in Room 14 of Reed School.

The trustees will also hear a report on the instructional program at Reed School and appoint a committee to study merit pay for teachers.

Suicide Note Found; No Body

The Coast Guard searched the waters of the bay below Golden Gate Bridge for two hours Sunday without finding the body of a supposed suicide victim who left a farewell note in an abandoned rental car.

The note, addressed to a roommate named Michael, bore the name of Robert John Huncharek of 2032 42nd Avenue, San Francisco. The California Highway Patrol said the man was a male nurse.

The note indicated despondent unhappy personal relationships.

Orchid Society

To Vote Thursday

The Marin Orchid Society will elect officers for 1963 at a meeting at 7:45 p.m. Thursday in the San Rafael High School cafeteria.

Mrs. James Lyons, vice president, has also arranged a showing of award winning orchids on film, lent by Orchid Digest Magazine.

Mrs. Enrico Intorini, president, announced that the Christmas dinner for members and guests will be held at Sabel's Restaurant at 7 p.m., Dec. 6.

College Choice Talk Scheduled At Drake

"Factors to Consider in the Selection of a College" is the title of a discussion to be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the little theater of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Representatives of the College of Marin, University of California, San Francisco State College, University of the Pacific, and Cogswell Polytechnical College in San Francisco will tell parents and students about college requirements.
